U.S.-SOVIET SHOWDOWN LOOMS

Russia Hurls Serious Warning In Crisis

Soviet Cancels Troops' Leaves And Discharges

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government gave "a serious warning" to the United States today and said President Kennedy's quarantine of Cuba was a step toward thermonuclear war.

It reaffirmed in a statement that Soviet nuclear rockets are only a defense against aggression.

The government statement broadcast by Moscow radio and carried by the Soviet news agency Tass denounced as hypocrisy President Kennedy's charge that Cuba had been turned into a Soviet base for offensive missiles and weapons.

Speaking of Kennedy's quarantine, the statement said: "The peoples of all countries must be clearly aware that, undertaking such a gamble, the United States of America is taking a step along the road of unleashing a thermonuclear world war. Cynically flouting international standards of conduct of states and the principles of the charter of the United Nations, the United States usurped the right, and announced this, to attack ships of other states on the high seas, e.i. to engage in piracy."

Shortly after the government statement was released, U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler was called for a meeting at the Foreign Ministry to officially receive the Soviet statement.

Meanwhile the Soviet Union today canceled all leaves for military personnel, and halted further discharges from several of the armed forces, Tass announced.

The agency said the Kremlin ordered the halt in the discharge of Soviet servicemen in senior age groups in strategic rocket forces, anti-aircraft defense troops and the submarine fleet.

Mighty U.S. Fleet Prowls For Red Ships

Ordered To Sink Vessels Trying To Avoid Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mighty U.S. war fleet fanned across the Atlantic today prepared to intercept a large number of Soviet cargo ships, possibly carrying more missiles to Communist Cuba.

The first contact could come by nightfall—and with it the first test

Britain Supports

Kennedy On Blockade

LONDON (AP)—Britain today came out in full support of President Kennedy's arms blockade of Cuba. A statement said the basing of offensive nuclear weapons in Cuba was provocative.

of President Kennedy's newly proclaimed arms blockade of Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Large numbers of Soviet ships were reported moving in the direction of Cuba, but not in convoy.

American Navy vessels sailed Monday from the Puerto Rico area and East Coast ports.

Their orders: Hail, stop, search—and, if necessary—sink vessels which try to avoid inspection.

Ships of any nation—Communist and non-Communist alike—will be stopped by U.S. Navy ships if they are bound for Cuba.

A Defense Department spokesman made it quite clear that force will be used—regardless of the nationality of a ship—if it refuses to halt or follow an order to change course away from Cuba.

While mounting this blockade to keep offensive weapons such as missiles and bombers out of Cuba, the United States looked to its powder elsewhere—just in case the Communists should try some counter-move.

The great nuclear jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command and SAC's 144 combat-ready intercontinental ballistic missiles were put on an increased alert.

U.S. ground, sea and air forces around the globe—including those in Berlin and West Germany—were ordered to be especially vigilant.

The Air Force sent more super-fast interceptor planes into better positions to defend the East Coast. At Patrick Air Force Base, near Cape Canaveral, Fla., a force of 36 jets concentrated—1,600-mile-a-hour F106s and 1,400-mile-an-hour F104s.

There was no overt threat to the U.S. naval base on Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba.

Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky gave the government a report "on the measures taken to enhance the combat readiness of the armed forces," Tass said.

The agency said the measures were taken "in connection with the provocative actions of the U.S. government and aggressive intentions of the American armed forces."

Marshal Andrei A. Grechko also summoned officers representing the armies of the Warsaw Pact—the Communist counterpart to the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

Tass said he "issued instructions concerning a series of measures to raise the military preparedness of the troops and fleets making up the joint armed forces."

Earlier, the Soviet government gave "a serious warning" to the United States and said President Kennedy's quarantine of Cuba was a step toward thermonuclear war.

The Ohio forecaster said temperatures will dip to near freezing and showers may be mixed with wet snow tonight with snow flurries likely Wednesday.

You can say goodbye to those mild temperatures, too.

A high range of 45 to 50 today will be followed by a low of 32 to 38 tonight, along with cold winds. The downtown had 43 at 7 a. m. today, with little rise during the forenoon.

The district has had a couple of frosty mornings this month but the nights have been rather mild, considering the lateness of the season.

Apparently real autumn weather is now on the way.

Chief Warns Drivers Of Pedestrian Rights

Orders have been issued for stricter enforcement of city ordinances granting pedestrians the right-of-way in crosswalks, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

The chief warned motorists that officers will crack down on violations, which generally arise when a turning vehicle does not yield to a person afoot. He said the department has received complaints of motorist violations, particularly on 5th St. at Washington and Market Sts.

Pedestrians must remember that turns off Washington St. banned generally during business hours, are permitted after 8:30 p. m. the chief reminded.

Indian Forces Pushed Back 7 Or 8 Miles

Red Chinese Widen Bridgehead; Threaten Vital Monastery Town

NEW DELHI (AP) — Chinese Communist troops have widened their bridgehead in northeastern India and are developing a threat to the important monastery town of Towang, the Indian Defense Ministry said today.

Chinese troops pushed back Indian soldiers seven or eight miles in an area just east of Bum Pass, a defense spokesman said, adding to the Towang threat.

Elsewhere on the disputed Himalayan border, fighting continued without major changes in position.

Peiping radio said Indian troops had crossed the McMahon Line frontier and the radio also said Chinese forces no longer will respect that 48-year-old Himalayan boundary mark.

Red China's UN Bid Faces Rough Going

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Communist China's bid for a U. N. seat faced rough going today as the United States and its allies cited the Red thrust into India as proof Peiping is an aggressor with no right to sit in the world body.

The United States hammered at this theme after the Soviet Union opened the China debate Monday and called on the 109-nation General Assembly to install the Peiping regime in the organization in place of Nationalist China.

Many delegates felt the Soviets could not have advocated Peiping's cause at a worse time than when China and India are locked in a border struggle that has alarmed many neutral nations.

The Soviets and neutrals who spoke Monday steered clear of the Chinese-Indian crisis, but the Philippines and Nationalist China echoed the U.S. charges of aggression.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson dramatized the issue by departing from his prepared speech to read Prime Minister Nehru's broadcast statement to the Indian people that "We are facing the greatest menace to our freedom."

"According to a news bulletin I received shortly before I arrived

Peiping radio coupled the charge with an offer to negotiate with India for a peaceful settlement of the bloody border conflict which Prime Minister Nehru said Monday threatens his country's independence.

On the fourth day of hard battling which has pushed the Indians steadily back, an Indian spokesman indicated Nehru has rejected a Liberian proposal of mediation by African-Asian powers.

Red China charged that Indian troops crossed the McMahon Line in a new attempt to place the blame on India for the current fighting. India has charged repeatedly that the Chinese, not the Indians, launched large-scale assaults four days ago.

The Chinese statement said the Peiping government, although it made clear repeatedly it did not

62% Of Campaign Goal

Community Fund Drive Now Stands At $49,915

A total of $49,915 in cash gifts from individuals and pledged "Company Family" quotas is reported at the close of the second week of the local Community Fund Campaign, launched Oct. 8.

Representing about 62 per cent of the campaign goal of $80,000, almost three-fourths of the reported total is accounted for by "Company-Family" assigned quotas.

According to Richard Emmerling, drive chairman, "The responsibility for the success or failure of this year's campaign is going to depend primarily on the acceptance of this 'Company-Family' plan of giving.

"Better than 80 per cent of local residents are employed by, or associated with, the larger businesses and industries in this area.

"Each of these firms has been assigned a percentage of the $80,000 campaign goal as its 'company-family' quota. Meeting this quota now becomes the individual responsibility of each employee, whether he or she is an hourly worker or an executive. The assigned quotas are, we feel, very fair—they are based on past gifts received, plus a reasonable share of the increase needed to meet our larger goal.

"Campaign materials and pledge cards are now in the hands of all the assigned representatives in each area business or industry. We most urgently appeal to all their employees—don't wait to be asked—approach your company representative—sign that pledge card now and accept your fair share of civic responsibility willingly, voluntarily, generously," he said.

He added that every resident in this area benefits, directly or indirectly, from the work of the six agencies maintained through Community Fund.

"And certainly, we are each aware that these agencies cannot exist without our personal support. We know, too, that 95 cents out of every dollar stays right here in our own area to help Boy Scouts, Girls Council, the YMCA, Recreation Council and Salvation Army—only a few pennies go out of town to USO, and even those benefit local servicemen and women stationed throughout the world. Community Fund is our one opportunity to 'unite at home to help our own', he concluded.

McMahon, in negotiations with Tibet in 1914, when India was under British rule.

Before the current outbreak Nehru steadfastly had refused to negotiate unless the Chinese first withdrew from disputed territory.

He told his people in a 13-minute broadcast India must carry on the struggle because she cannot submit to the aggression or domination of a powerful and unscrupulous foe. He appealed for national unity, hard work, no strikes and warned of possibly more reverses in what may prove to be a long crisis.

The Chinese reported fighting continued today on both the eastern front and in the Ladakh area far to the west. Red broadcasts gave no immediate details on the latest clashes.

Florida Air, Naval Bases Spur Activity

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida—bristling with air bases and boasting big naval operations at Key West, Jacksonville and Pensacola—throbbed with activity today to back up President Kennedy's blockade of Cuba.

At Key West, only 90 miles from Cuba, naval vessels had put to sea and the county granted permission for an Army unit to bivouac in the local baseball park.

A new control tower, previously unneeded at the Key West airport because only one commercial flight goes into and out of the city daily, was rushed to completion in less than two days. Boca Chica field at the naval air station is a separate operation.

Soldiers seen earlier at Sugarloaf Key, a few miles from the city, had disappeared. Medical and surgical supplies were reported to be stockpiled at the Navy base.

Telephone calls to Key West were delayed Monday night by "heavy traffic" but were going through early today.

All naval vessels in the harbor at Mayport, near Jacksonville had gone to sea.

Unusual activity was reported at such big air bases as MacDill Field at Tampa, McCoy Air Force Base at Orlando and Homestead

Kennedy Orders Blockade Of Red Arms To Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union and the United States headed into a collision course today as U.S. Navy ships moved in to clamp an arms blockade on Cuba and halt the Soviet conversion of the island into a nuclear missile base.

A direct confrontation between the two great powers could come by nightfall, in the judgment of Washington officials.

The crisis was probably the greatest since World War II.

The full scope of the danger broke upon the world Monday night when President Kennedy announced the establishment of Soviet missile bases in Cuba and disclosed a seven-point program of U.S. action starting off with a naval blockade to halt the flow of any more offensive arms to Cuba.

He called his move the imposition of a strict quarantine, avoiding official use of the word blockade. But administration officials said that in practical effect there was no difference.

There was no immediate official reaction from Moscow.

Havana radio said early today that all of the island's military forces had been mobilized and Prime Minister Fidel Castro would address his nation later in the day.

Kennedy is depending on crisis diplomacy to pull the world back from the brink of conflict. Shortly before addressing the nation by television and the world by radio he addressed a personal message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to refrain from any step which would make the situation worse.

The letter, along with an advance copy of his speech, was handed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin at the State Department shortly before Kennedy went on the air. A copy of the letter was delivered in Moscow to the U.S. Embassy.

The message opened the way for a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting on the Cuban crisis by asserting that the United States is always ready for peaceful negotiations. Officials said it did not specifically suggest such a meeting. On the diplomatic front—as on the Cuban blockade front—it put the next move up to Khrushchev.

Even as the President spoke, U.S. warships were maneuvering in the Cuban area, taking up stations for interception of all inbound vessels. U.S. Navy ships will have the responsibility to intercept, visit and search ships of all countries including those of the Soviet Union to make sure they are not carrying offensive weapons to the island.

Defense and State Department officials told newsmen the Navy would fire a shot across the bow of any ship which refused to submit to investigation and if necessary would then fire at the ship with the intention of causing the minimum damage to halt it. If need be, the ship would be sunk, defense officials said.

The overriding question being asked in the government here was whether Khrushchev would slow down or turn back Soviet ships on the way, at least to give time for a cooling-off period and avoid an almost immediate showdown. The Pentagon said Soviet ships now bound for Cuba have no military escorts.

The State Department officials said Kennedy was delaying until late today or tonight the formal

Kennedy Puts His Political Trips Aside

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's attempt to adjourn politics on the basis of the Cuban crisis got a guarded and unenthusiastic reception today from most Republican candidates.

After announcing his decision to throw an arms blockade around Cuba, Kennedy canceled his remaining barnstorming excursions in the Nov. 6 election campaign.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson also wiped out his schedule of speeches in behalf of Democratic candidates.

Kennedy also asked the congressional leaders—including several Republicans who have been campaigning vigorously for re-election—to stay around Washington for consultation on Cuban developments.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger described the group as an executive committee. Its eight members will meet daily at the White House at 10 a.m., until further notice.

In addition to Kennedy, the group consists of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon; Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Cuba Brands Blockade As 'Act Of War'

All Military Forces Mobilized; Castro Declarations Due

HAVANA (AP)—Declaring the U.S. blockade of Cuba is "an act of war," Havana broadcasts said today all Cuban military forces numbering hundreds of thousands have been mobilized.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro will address the nation later and "will make important declarations," one announcement said.

President Kennedy's statement that Soviet ballistic missiles are stationed in Cuba was ridiculed by a television commentator. Luis Gomez Manguemert, editor of El Mundo and an adviser to the Foreign Ministry, accused Kennedy of "a whole series of falsehoods about Cuba."

Asserting that the United States appeared to be ignoring Soviet guarantees to defend Cuba, the commentator said that "the blockade measures are not only an act of war, but also a provocation for tragic world events."

Another announcement said Cuba's delegate to the United Nations, Mario Garcia-Inchausti, had asked for an urgent meeting of the Security Council to consider the U.S. blockade.

Havana radio said the order for mobilization came from Castro and was put into effect quickly.

"Our combat units rapidly placed themselves on a fighting basis," the broadcast added.

"Hundreds of thousands of men

"And should there be some among us who think that perhaps the whole thing is a mistake that will right itself before long," Stevenson added, "let me point out that when a nation moves its troops with tanks and armor there is no mistake."

Stevenson said the Red offensive against India was "naked aggression" and charged it had been planned over the past three years.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin introduced Red China's bid in a relatively mild speech which many saw as mere token support for Peiping. The two Communist giants are locked in an ideological dispute.

County Plans Park Next To Covered Span

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioner Monday agreed to establish a county park at the smallest covered bridge in the United States, which is located on Churchhill Rd., in Elkrun Township.

Commissioners in 1960 built a new bridge for $15,000 across Middle Creek, south of the present covered bridge which is 19 feet 3 inches long and 12 feet wide.

Thomas Malone of Homeworth, a member of the northeast Ohio Covered Bridge Association, requested that commissioners make this into a county park, along with an area of about 500 by 50 feet in the vicinity of bridge, which also includes a 72-inch thick oak tree in the middle of the tract.

The association agreed to keep the area mowed and it is expected that picnic tables will be placed around the area.

The bridge was the second smallest until several years ago when one in Pennsylvania was torn down and now is the smallest in the nation.

Hancock Roadblock Nabs City Youth In Stolen Car

A 19-year-old city youth who fled Chester and Hancock County police after a collision in Chester Monday night, but who was nabbed at a roadblock near New Cumberland following a Route 66 auto chase, was being held today at New Cumberland for auto theft and other charges.

Charles Ray Richards, 762 Woodlawn Ave. was apprehended in a stolen car about 4 a. m. today by Hancock Sheriff's deputies, Chester and New Cumberland police.

He apparently was a passenger in a car operated by George Allen Fetty, 22, of 843 Sophia St., which was involved in a collision with a Hookstown motorist late last night when a Chester man was injured.

Chester Patrolman Frank Fetty said the car of Fetty — whom he said is no relation — rammed the side of another one driven by John V. Moore, 41, of Hookstown on Carolina Ave. at 6th St. as Moore made a left turn onto 6th St.

The Fetty car struck the side of Moore's, injuring William Wedgewood, 60, of 338 Louisiana Ave., Chester, who was treated at City Hospital for rib and chest injuries.

Patrolman Fetty said the 1953 sedan driven by Fetty skidded 138 feet before ramming the 1954 sedan of Moore.

Those in the crash were taken to City Hall for questioning, and as Patrolman Fetty quizzed Richards — who was a passenger in Fetty's auto along with an East Liverpool man and girl — Richards jumped out a rear window and fled on foot.

The Chester policeman and Hancock Deputies quickly began a hunt for Richards on foot and in cruisers.

About 3:30 a. m. a car owned by C. C. Rector of 1st St. was stolen from his garage, and the cruising officers spotted it and gave chase from 1st St.

The driver, Richards, sped past a deputy's cruiser on W. Carolina Ave., and another near the Newell Bridge and continued south on Route 66, police said.

Whenever a cruiser attempted to pull abreast of the racing auto, Richards attempted to force it off the road. The pursuers radioed a head to New Cumberland, requesting a road-block be set up.

A New Cumberland officer had just pulled up across Route 66 at the intersection with Route 2 when Richards careened past the cruiser and tried to turn onto Route 2, but struck a concrete marker. The other cruisers were driven close around the car to prevent escape, and Richards was taken from the car and to the County Jail.

Richards faces charges of auto theft, intoxication and resisting arrest, Hancock authorities said. Fetty, driver of the car in the original crash, was held overnight at Chester on a charge of driving while intoxicated and driving without an operator's permit.

issuance of an official proclamation instituting the quarantine. The effect was to give the Soviet Union and all other nations about 24 hours to consider the situation. Meanwhile, the United States moved on to other sectors of the diplomatic front, calling for an immediate meeting of the Organization of American States and an urgent session of the U.N. Security Council.

The purpose of the OAS meeting was to try to obtain Western Hemisphere sanction for the blockade, the OAS being a regional defense organization.

The purpose of calling the Security Council meeting was to ask for action on a resolution demanding that Soviet missiles and other offensive weapons be immediately withdrawn from Cuba under supervision of a U.N. observation team.

State Department officials said it must be assumed that some Soviet medium range ballistic missiles are already operational in Cuba. Such missiles have a range of more than 1,000 nautical miles, the President reported in his speech.

In addition, he said intermediate range ballistic missiles, with a range of about 2,200 miles, are destined for additional Cuban sites still under construction. Furthermore, he declared that jet bombers with nuclear weapons capability are being assembled in Cuba "while the necessary air bases are being prepared."

The President announced that he had received at 9 o'clock last Tuesday morning "the first preliminary hard information" that a series of "offensive missile sites is now in preparation on that imprisoned island," Cuba.

"This urgent transformation of Cuba into an important strategic base—by the presence of these large, long-range and clearly offensive weapons of sudden mass destruction—constitutes an explicit threat to the peace and security of all the nations," Kennedy declared.

In effect the President accused Soviet leaders of lying about their arms build-up in Cuba. He cited a public statement from Moscow on Sept. 11 that Soviet military equipment delivered to Cuba was designed "exclusively for defensive purposes."

He said that even after evidence of an offensive buildup was in his hands Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told him at the White House last Thursday that Soviet assistance "pursued solely the purpose of contributing to the defense capabilities of Cuba."

Kennedy said that both the Cuban defense claims from Moscow and Gromyko's statement were false.

"Neither the United States of America nor the world community of nations," the President declared, "can tolerate deliberate deception and offensive threats on the part of any nation, large or small."

Kennedy told the American people: "Let no one doubt that this is a difficult and dangerous effort on which we have set out."

"No one can foresee precisely," he added, "what course it will take or what costs or casualties will be incurred. But the greatest danger of all would be to do nothing."

The seven points of his action program, in summary, are these: 1. Under the quarantine policy all ships bound for Cuba will, if found to contain cargoes of offensive weapons, be turned back. The quarantine will be extended to other cargo and carriers (obviously meaning aircraft) if necessary.

essary but at present the "necessities of life" will be permitted to go through the blockade.

2. If the offensive military preparations continue, "further action will be justified" and the President has "directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities."

3. Any nuclear missile launched from Cuba against any country in the Western Hemisphere will be regarded as an attack by the Soviet Union on the United States "requiring a full retaliatory response upon the Soviet Union."

4. The U.S. naval base at Guantanamo has been reinforced and dependents of the armed forces personnel stationed there have been withdrawn. Additional military units have been alerted, presumably for further reinforcement.

5. An immediate meeting of the OAS was called "to consider the threat to hemispheric security" and to invoke the Rio defense pact "in support of all necessary action."

6. An emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council was demanded "to take action against this latest Soviet threat to world peace."

7. The President called on Premier Khrushchev "to halt and to eliminate this clandestine, reckless and provocative threat to world peace and to stable relations between our two nations."

Do It In The Legislature

Ohio voters will be asked Nov. 6 whether they want to amend the state constitution to legalize Sunday sales in listed commodities, products and services.

Ohio's current Sunday closing laws not only are ambiguous and confusing, but have led to uncertainties in enforcement and inconsistencies in court interpretation.

The proposed constitutional amendment, to be placed before the voters through petitions circulated by the Lawson Milk Co., is designed to clarify the so-called Sunday Blue Laws by spelling out specific exemptions. By custom or court interpretation, virtually all of the commodities and services which appear on the Nov. 6 ballot already have been established as necessities and thus exempt from the Sunday sales ban.

Only milk and food products appear to lack legal clearance, and yet items in these categories have long been available on Sunday in certain "convenience" stores throughout the state.

THE CONSTITUTION BAN on Sunday labor and commerce is quite general in its wording. Exceptions are listed simply as "work of necessity or charity."

Thus the door has been left open for a wide divergence of interpretation of what constitutes a necessity.

Unfortunately, many of the arguments against passage of the amendment, it seems to us, have been more contrived than reasoned. They have been dripping with moral and religious persuasion which, an objective analysis of the facts will show, has no basic relationship to the issue.

Among the opposition themes most persistently pursued are charges that the amendment would be the opening wedge to universal Sunday sales and that employees would be forced to work a seven-day week and thus prevented from attending church.

With these we cannot agree. We are convinced that the proposed amendment would restrict, rather than expand, Sunday sales. We can, however, agree with the more convincing argument against the Lawson amendment that exemptions should NOT be spelled out in the constitution but by acts of the Ohio Legislature.

FROM A PURELY legalistic point of view, the constitution establishes a framework within which the legislature can enact laws, define penalties and provide the means of enforcement.

If an effort were made to repeal the Sunday ban on sales, it would have to be accomplished through a constitutional amendment.

Any move to extend, restrict or clarify Sunday retail necessities should be done by statute. Once an amendment is written into the constitution, it is not subject to easy change such as would be the case with the legislature.

The 1959 Ohio Assembly did make some changes to update the statutes and eliminate ambiguities, by exempting traveling and commodities incident thereto, recreation, sports, amusements and entertainment, and by repealing a long-standing ban on Sunday fishing. But not all the legal clouds were removed.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the "work of necessity" exemption needs further clarification, and it would seem that the proper place to do it is the state legislature, where the voices of all segments of society can be heard—business, labor, agriculture and religion.

Then a Sunday law can be written that is fair to all, responsive to the needs of the times and, we hope, so unmistakably clear that enforcement can be uniform and impartial throughout the state.

We believe it imperative that the Ohio Assembly get at the job at the very next session, in January.

Everybody Has A Good Idea

We liked the story about the English mother of four who used her good looks to make truck drivers stop, then sweetly asked them to drive carefully instead of accepting their invitations to go riding.

We like the story from California about plywood "patrol cars" that make motorists stay inside speed limits when they are spotted in their hiding places just off the main highway.

We even like "Radar Zone" signs advertising nonexistent radar zones.

We like all stores about the never-ending drive to curb the reckless operation of autos. But something about them leaves us with a feeling that something is being missed in the auto safety campaign.

There is no reward for the safe driver, except his personal satisfaction in knowing he is a safe driver. Under some circumstances he may get a better break on his auto insurance, but under most circumstances he is just a long-suffering goat for all the unsafe drivers whose risks keep auto insurance premiums sky-high.

There should be a reward. Drivers who go 10, 20, 30 years and more without trouble should be entitled to an insignia that will let everybody know they are the cream of the crop.

Too Dumb To Know

What it adds up to if you admit it is that we can't afford to live in America any more even if we could get smarter, which isn't likely.

The whole proposition has got too rich for our blood. Everything has become too expensive. Taxes are too high; everybody knows that. It costs too much to live and too much to die, or even to be sick.

Education costs too much — up to $3,000 a year for a kid to go to college and a lump of money even if he goes almost free to a place where taxpayers pay the freight.

Everywhere you look or listen there's the sound of money — at the gas pump, at the supermarket, jingle, jingle, jingle. Ask anybody — anybody — and you will learn that Americans cannot afford what they are doing.

They cannot afford foreign aid, the stock market, highways, dependent children, accidents, appliances, travel, groceries, fringe benefits, featherbedding, installment buying. When you come right down to it, they can't even afford automation, which was intended to bring down the cost of everything but hasn't.

We can't afford America. We can't live here any more. It's too expensive. Besides, we're too dumb.

Every time you turn around someone is mouthing off about there not being enough smart people to fill the jobs that now need filling and too many people who can't even apply for them because they couldn't do them if they got them. They're not smart enough.

It's a theory that a lot of the people who now have no jobs because there's nothing they can do will get smart — and some will because all they lacked was training.

But no one's going to make silk purses out of sows' ears, and no one's going to teach startling new tricks to prosaic old dogs.

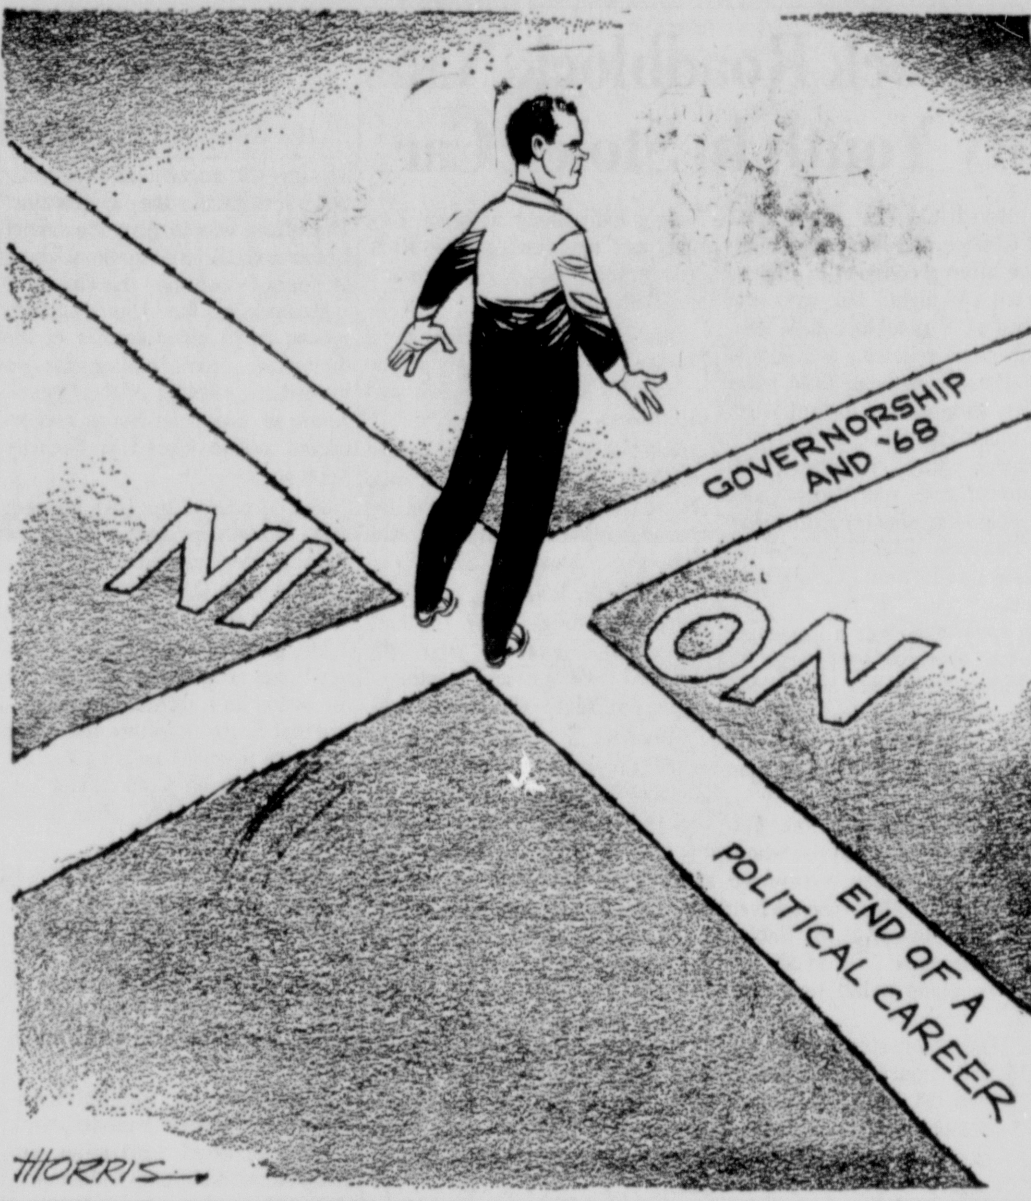

We're too dumb — some of us — to live in the United States. We can't run a turret lathe.

If we can't set up problems on a computing machine, run precision equipment, make a nuclear bomb, teach mathematics, run earth-moving machinery, keep tax cli-

Crossroads

A 'Red Carpet' For Khrushchev

By Victor Riesel

A red carpet welcome is being prepared at New York for Chairman Nikita Khrushchev. This will be the most fluid red carpet ever prepared for a visiting head of state—crowned or uncrowned.

And Communist party First Secretary Khrushchev should be intrigued by the knowledge that it is the working class of New York which is preparing the welcome — none other than the most proletarian of all workers, the longshoremen.

The dockworkers' national union is set to buy up large quantities of red dye. This will be poured into the waters of New York's harbor as the Communist leader's ship heaves into sight.

Nor do the longshoremen believe in subtlety. The red dye will be "the symbol of the blood the Communist troops and militia have spilled in Hungary, Berlin, Poland, Tibet, and Cuba," said the peppery Teddy Gleason, national general organizer of the 75,000-man International Longshoremen's Association.

"We weren't really prepared," dryly observed Gleason, "for his arrival on the Baltika in the East River just two years ago. We will be this time.

"WE WILL have small boats hovering around Khrushchev's vessel if he comes next month. We will have large signs, in Russian, reminding him of the cannonading on the streets of Budapest and the mountainsides of Tibet, and of the execution squads in Havana's short-order prisons. We will lash huge photos of Soviet creased death scenes to large buoys floating in the harbor.

"And we won't unload his ship or help it tie up, as it did last time at Pier 73."

Should Khrushchev fly in, he will be greeted just as dramatically at the airport. As will Fidel Castro and Marshall Tito, who also are expected.

This is a labor of love for Teddy Gleason and his waterfront men. And of sacrifice, too. Pier workers are not paid if they don't unload. And they are not unloading any ships which carry Soviet cargo of any other kind.

"We've got them stopped," said

Gleason. His words came with machine gun swiftness.

"Tell the country, which is not quite aware of what's happening, that we have stopped 25 ships so far. We're not unloading any Soviet cargo, even from non-Communist vessels."

IT SHOULD be pointed out here that Soviet ships have not used American ports since 1951, when this column called for a boycott of Soviet-bloc goods. The longshoremen responded then as they have now, more than a decade later.

They've tied up a ship trying to unload 697 tons of Soviet glass in the Providence, R.I., harbor. They have stalled the delivery of 11 tons of saffron here; eight cases of Communist-made artificial flowers remained aboard the U.S. Lines' American Merchant.

Other "job actions" have idled ships in Houston, New Orleans, San Juan, and Savannah.

Soon operators of hundreds of other ships will discover they cannot unload Communist cargo in any East or Gulf Port or Great Lakes harbor. The longshoremen are awaiting eight such cargo-carrying vessels on the Great Lakes — and several from India.

"We're especially eager," said Gleason, "to freeze those coming from India. There are two ships out of Calcutta carrying 15,000 tons of bagging."

THESE ADVANCE runners of a total order of 50,000 tons of gunny sacking left Calcutta a week ago. They are headed for Cuba.

I asked Gleason how he could stop them. He couldn't stop the delivery. But if the ships later put into an East Coast port, he said, no longshoreman would work them.

But that's not all. "We are going to tie up," explained Gleason, "the entire line — all ships of any company carrying material to Cuba, or transshipping Russian cargo or cargo paid for by the Soviets."

"Look at that gunny material. It's for bags. We don't think the Cubans need them for sugar. Much of that is shipped in bulk now. We think the material is for sand bags, for fortifications, for use against us maybe, or against the Cuban people."

"Maybe not, but we're not taking any chances. We'll tie them up if they hit here after Havana. And we'll tie up every single ship owned by the company, which has its headquarters in London."

"And this is just the beginning. We're coordinating. Our Port Councils, made up of many waterfront unions in other harbor cities, are on the alert. So no ship, rejected in one port, can slip quietly into another. And our international lines are up. We're getting the word as soon as a Communist cargo leaves a foreign port."

"If they want to do business with the Soviets and Castro, they can't hire us. That's final."

And right fine sentiments, too. It's now the people against Chairman Khrushchev.

Day Of Reckoning

Labor Union Monopoly Charged

Some of the things happening today that are glossed over or ignored will doubtless be recalled, and maybe a remedy will then be prescribed. But, as of now, such principles as "equal protection of the law" are being disregarded and business is being severely handicapped. In some instances, enterprises are being strangled and forced to close down altogether.

HERE ARE a few of the practices that reveal glaring inconsistencies in today's labor-management laws and in the interpretations given them by the National Labor Relations Board:

1. A company that goes out of business because it thinks it cannot make ends meet is penalized by being ordered to continue to pay wages for work not being done if somehow the closing down can be related to a labor dispute. The obligation then continues indefinitely or until the workers some day find comparable jobs. The big labor unions, however, with tens of millions of dollars in their treasuries are not required to bear any of this expense.

2. A labor union can conduct an unjustified strike and put a company out of business but is under no obligation to reimburse the employer for any of his losses.

3. A labor union executive for a region or area — with authority over many local unions — can nullify the desires of the members of a local union who may wish to accept a cut in wages as a means of helping to keep their employer in business. Recent news dispatches describe instances in which companies have gone out of business due to labor difficulties.

Thus, the National Labor Relations Board — which now is controlled by Kennedy administration appointees — announced last Thursday that Deering Milliken, Inc., one of the country's largest textile companies, had been ordered to assume back-pay payments in behalf of a small company in Darlington, S.C., that it does not own but which happens to have in it some individuals who own some stock in both companies.

THE PAYMENTS start from the time the Darlington manufacturing company closed down in 1956 through the present and up to any future date until the employees shall find comparable employment.

The board, by a 3-2 vote, analyzed the reasons for the shutdown and ruled that, while some of the causes may have been economic, the fact that there happened to be a labor dispute in which animosity was displayed by the employer toward the organizing of a union superseded all else and hence justified the imposition of a penalty in the form of back pay. No consideration was given to the company's legitimate desire to avoid the higher wage costs that the union would demand.

The textile company, in fighting the case, relied on a decision of the Eighth District U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, evidently believing that in these days a court decision is a sacred matter and presumably must be obeyed even by governmental boards. The court had said:

"But none of this can be taken to mean that an employer doesn't have the absolute right, at all times, to permanently close and go out of business, or to actually dispose of his business to another, for whatever reason he may choose, whether union animosity or anything else, and without his being thereby left subject to a remedial liability under the Labor Management Relations Act for such unfair labor practices as he may have committed in the enterprise, except up to the time that such actual and permanent closing or true and bona fide change in ownership has occurred."

The National Labor Relations Board said all this was "obiter dicta" — extraneous opinion—because, in that same case, the court happened to order reinstatement by the successor company of some employees unlawfully discharged by the predecessor company. In the Darlington case, however, there is no successor company, as the assets have been sold at auction. No case exactly like this one has been reviewed by the courts.

AS FOR the instance in which the regional director of a steel union in Western New York insisted that the local union in a small company maintain its wage rates in accordance with the rates prevailing in the big steel companies, this resulted in a closing of the plant.

In this case, the company not only had recognized the union but had made a contract with it in 1960 which was still in effect. Yet, when most of the members really wanted to revise that contract to save their jobs, the national union stepped in and pressured the local union into voting against acceptance of the pay cut. It is reported that a threat was made to deprive the local union of certification in the international union.

So the Buffalo Steel Co., went out of business. Its 450 employees now are out of work and the prospects for re-employment are dim, because the area already has 9 per cent unemployment, which is well above the national average.

That's how the labor-union monopoly operates today in America, while European competitors, which face no such obstacles, are steadily sending their products to this country for sale at lower prices.

Bamboo has many and varied uses in the Orient. Its seeds are baked into a bread, and the juice of the seeds is a base for a drink. The rotted leaves are a good fertilizer, and fresh they make a good animal fodder. Houses are built of bamboo, babies are rocked in bamboo cradles, the dead are buried in bamboo coffins, furniture is made of bamboo — and also hats, boxes, crates, chopsticks, buckets, cups, and hundreds of other household items.

Council Gives Lisbon Raises First Reading

LISBON — Council Monday evening gave first reading to an ordinance authorizing pay raises of $25 for cemetery and water and sewer workers, as requested by the Board of Public Affairs and Cemetery Board. It will become effective Jan. 1, if it passes three readings.

In other business, council refused the request of Ed Wolfe, owner of the Park Ave. market, for free parking space on S. Park Ave.

He will be allowed to park to load or unload but will not be able to park free anymore.

Council also said that plumbers, electrical workers and carpenters will also have to pay if they park at meters unless they are unloading or loading.

Council discussed changing meters to operate Friday nights instead of Saturday.

Mayor Dean Stockman will determine how much it will cost to change each meter head. If the cost is not too great, the change will be made.

Most of the stores are now open Friday nights instead of Saturdays.

Council authorized purchase of an electric hydraulic pump for the snow plow. The present pump has been repaired twice and is again going bad. The new equipment will cost $132.50 from Howard Adams of Salineville.

Dean Senanefes, president of the Lions Club, requested permission to hold the annual Cracker Jack sale Friday night on several streets. Council consented and it will be held from 5:30 to dark.

George Dotson of Caldwell Ave., complained that James Davis is welding in his garage at the rear of his home but the area is not designated as an industrial zone.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzi wrote to Davis July 12, advising him that he was violating a village ordinance and that a civil suit could be filed by property owners or the village could file charges. Mayor Stockman said he will contact Davis and advise him to cease. Davis sub-contracts welding of bridge abutments.

Council set two nights for Trick or Treat, Oct. 30 and 31, but parents of the children will be liable for any damages to property.

Council also discussed changing stop lights.

The light on the Public Square will be on 24 hours of stop and go and the others will be placed on blinker after 11:30 p. m. and until 7 a. m. The light on the square has been on blinker in those hours and numerous arrests have been made.

A letter was read from Floyd Lower, county extension agent, inviting representatives of Council to attend a meeting Thursday evening at St. George's Parish Hall when resources development in Columbiana County will be discussed.

Council said the village will go back to Eastern Standard Time Sunday at 2 a. m. Next meeting is Nov. 12 at 7:30 p. m. in the Village Hall.

Hays Anticipated Cuban Blockade In Palestine Talk

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, pointed out Monday night he forecast U. S. action against Cuba in an address at East Palestine Oct. 16.

The Flushing Democrat told the East Palestine audience it was an ill-kept "military secret" that American U2 reconnaissance planes were keeping Cuba under constant surveillance and added the prediction that if "offensive-type weapons are moved in, the United States will take action."

Former President Eisenhower promised Premier Khrushchev the U. S. would discontinue U2 flights over Russia and President Kennedy reiterated the pledge, "but nobody promised we wouldn't fly over Cuba," the congressman said.

To illustrate the quality of the photos brought back by the U2's, Rep. Hays said he has seen shots taken from 70,000 feet over the San Diego Navy Base that show "cars in the parking areas, ships and the golf course." Enlargements from the same photos are detailed enough to "show golf balls on the greens," he added.

DiSalle's Visit Set At Wellsville

Gov. Michael DiSalle is slated to appear at Wellsville Thursday, according to Don Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, who said a luncheon is being planned for him at noon at the First Christian Church.

The governor's appearance is being sponsored by the Wellsville Democrat central committee. Charles Lewis is chairman. Precinct committeemen are in charge of tickets.

Gosney said he received word that Sen. Frank Lausche also will try to be present. Rep. Wayne L. Hays also may be present as he is scheduled to be in Steubenville to meet Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

Others scheduled for the luncheon include Lawrence Stacey, candidate for state representative; County Auditor Kenneth Bell, Commissioner Frank Wilson, Sen. Edmund Sargus, Judge Herbert Arfman and Judge Luther Donbar.

Hays will be the principal speaker at a rally tonight at 8 at the Jaycee Hall. It is being sponsored by the Wellsville Women's Democratic Club. A capacity crowd is anticipated.

Soldiers' uniforms are now dressier than at any time since the First World War.

DiSalle-Rhodes Only Real Race

Stew Getting Very Thick In Ohio's Political Pot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The stew is getting mighty thick in Ohio's political pot.

With the election only two weeks away, the air is full of charges in the gubernatorial contest between Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his Republican challenger, James A. Rhodes.

Those who know Ohio politics best seem to be unanimous in believing the DiSalle-Rhodes contest is the only real race in the Buckeye state this fall. All express belief Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche will be re-elected and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late "Mr. Republican," will be a shoo-in for Ohio's new Congress-at-large seat.

DiSalle, elected in 1958 as Ohio's first four-year-term governor, has had a sometimes stormy passage as he pushed through a tax-increase program and stumped for more liberal state programs, especially in public and higher education and mental health. He started his campaign last May, shortly after the primary elections, in an obvious effort to goad GOP State Auditor Rhodes into a free-swinging battle.

But Rhodes, so far at least, is having none of that campaign strategy. He lost a previous bid for the governor's chair in 1954 to Lausche who then was seeking the last of his five two-year terms in that office.

A special grand jury has taken the center of the political stage. It was impaneled last week on DiSalle's order after a series of stories published by a newspaper group charged influence peddling early in the DiSalle administration in getting liquor brands stocked in state monopoly stores. The newspaper group has endorsed Rhodes.

Scarcely was the special jury organized, however, before DiSalle announced he wanted it to investigate also some activities in Rhodes' office of state auditor over which he has presided 10 years.

DiSalle said he wanted the grand jury to investigate allegations that auditors and examiners employed by Rhodes have charged phony expenses to local government subdivisions and kicked back the money, in cash, to someone in the auditor's office.

Up until the time the charges started to fly, most observers had estimated DiSalle and Rhodes were running a very close race for the 3,800,000 votes expected to be cast Nov. 6. Most were inclined to give Rhodes a slight edge.

What effect the eleventh-hour grand jury will have on the outcome no one seems to care to predict at the moment.

6 Autoists Forfeit; 3 Others Draw Fines

LISBON — Three motorists were fined Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald and six others forfeited appearance bonds.

Verdict Slated Today In $1.615 Civil Action

LISBON — A verdict is expected today in Common Pleas Court in the civil suit for $1,615 claimed due on a verbal contract for improving a dwelling, filed by R. E. Iden of the R. E. Iden Construction Co. at Alliance R. D. 5 against Harry J. and Darlene R. Summerville of Minerva R.D. 2.

Iden claims he had three men working on the contract in July and August of 1961 and the Summervilles claim that he was supposed to use only two at a cost of $4.50 per hour. Iden seeks the full amount allegedly due and the Summervilles want to pay the hourly rate they say was contracted.

The jury sworn in Monday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard includes: Olive Kress, Gladys Rose, Nevada Laitsch, Margaret Copestick, Blanche Sevey and Blaine Barrett of East Liverpool; Mary Gregg, Marguerite Graham, Edith Caudill and Genevieve Hill of Salem; Maurice Armstrong of Lisbon, and Patricia Woolf of Beloit R. D. Frank Aiken of Leetonia is alternate.

Jury Convicts Man, Mercy Recommended

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Common Pleas Court jury has convicted Cleveland Hammonds, 28, of first-degree murder in the fatal slugging of an Akron bar operator. He was spared from the electric chair by a recommendation of mercy.

Hammonds was charged with the fatal beating last Feb. 22 of Solomon George, 71.

"ELECTRIC HEAT WITH ALL ITS ADVANTAGES COSTS US ONLY 7¢ A DAY MORE"

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Weeks, Minford, 1152 square feet. Annual electric heating cost: $123.00

"We'd never go back to old-fashioned heat," says Mr. Lowell Weeks of Minford, Ohio. "Electric heat is worth more. It's absolutely clean and much more convenient."

What would it cost to heat your home electrically? You can make your own rough estimate for a well-insulated home:

Sq. ft. x 15¢ = $ (annual cost)

Compare this estimate with the cost of operating your present heating system. Then compare for cleanliness, safety, maintenance cost and convenience. You'll see why more than 1-out-of-3 new homes choose electric heat, why 520 older homes we serve converted to electric heat last year, why more than 9,000 of your Ohio Power neighbors heat electrically.

Compare home heating cost trends, too: Since 1946 oil has gone UP 78 per cent, gas UP 51 per cent, coal UP 84 per cent. In the same period the cost of electricity for home heating by our customers has gone DOWN 7 per cent.

If you want an accurate electric heating estimate for your home, present or planned, call our nearest office. Your estimate will be within 5 per cent of the actual cost. There's no charge or obligation.

4th Statewide Whisky Referendum Vote On Liquor 1 Of 5 At Issue In West Virginia

This is the first of four articles explaining the five amendments to the West Virginia Constitution which will be at issue in the Nov. 6 election. Today's installment discusses the Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment.

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON (AP) — The voting next month on the Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment will be the fourth statewide liquor referendum in West Virginia history.

The first three were straight wet-vs-dry votes. This referendum will be the first to pose a choice of sticking exclusively to the present state bottle store system or liberalizing the system to permit sale of liquor by the drink.

The Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment will appear on the Nov. 6 election ballot simply by that title. It will be at the top of a list of five constitutional amendments being submitted to the voters at the same time.

From the beginning of statehood in 1863 until 1912, West Virginia had saloons serving hard liquor over the bar. Dried put on the 1888 election ballot an amendment to "prohibit forever" the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor in the state, but the voters turned it down, 76,555 to 41,668.

Then in 1912, seven years ahead of nationwide Prohibition, the state voted bone-dry. The voters approved, 164,945 to 72,603, a constitutional amendment prohibiting manufacture and sale of hard liquor, wine and beer.

Prohibition was in force nationally under the 18th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution from 1919 until 1933. The West Virginia Legislature voted in 1933 to ratify repeal of the 18th Amendment, but the state remained legally dry because the 1912 amendment to the State Constitution was still in effect.

It was in 1934 that the state's voters ratified an amendment which repealed the 1912 measure and provided for the state's present liquor system. The vote was 276,978 to 237,559.

Under authority of the 1934 amendment the Legislature set up the widely-flouted system which permits sale of liquor and wine only by the bottle in state-operated stores.

The extent to which West Virginians violate this system is shown by the Internal Revenue Service report that 570 establishments in the state hold federal liquor stamps for this fiscal year. There are only 146 state liquor stores and agencies.

Not since 1934 have the state's voters had a chance to express their views on liquor control in an election.

Advocates of a more liberal liquor system have made repeated attempts since then to push through the Legislature a resolution to put the issue before the voters. All of the attempts failed until 1961, when the resolution to submit an amendment in this year's election squeezed through.

by the required two-thirds majorities in both houses. There wasn't a vote to spare in the House.

Ratification next month would not by itself change the liquor control system because the statutory laws under which it operates would still be on the books.

But ratification would give the Legislature power to change the laws. By repealing the constitution's present ban against sale of liquor for consumption in a "public place," the amendment would enable the Legislature to legalize sale of liquor by the drink.

If the voters approve the amendment, the Legislature undoubtedly will undertake to change the law accordingly, presumably at the 1963 session.

Under the amendment, any action by the Legislature to legalize liquor by the drink would have to include provision for county and municipal option elections. Existing law provides for local option on state liquor stores and nine of the 55 counties are dry.

Any law passed by the Legislature legalizing liquor by the drink also would, under the amendment, be required to include these other provisions:

— Restrict sales to restaurants, hotels, clubs and similar facilities such as park lodges operated by the state or cities, railroad dining cars and airplanes.

— Prohibit Sunday sales and sales before noon and after midnight other days.

— Limit licenses to one for each 1,000 persons in a county, except that at three additional licenses would be permitted in counties under 10,000 population. Licenses for race tracks and state and municipal facilities such as parks would be outside these limits. The same person could not hold more than one license.

— Require the Legislature each year to appropriate for schools at least half the excise and license tax revenue from liquor sales.

Beyond these provisions in the amendment, — such as the cost of a liquor license — would be left to the Legislature. While the amendment doesn't require it, the Legislature undoubtedly would retain the present state liquor store system, which makes a net profit of some $9 million a year.

To protect the state monopoly and its revenues, the Legislature probably would require by-the-drink outlets to buy their liquor from state stores.

County Engineer To Get New Car

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday purchased a 1963 Mercury sedan from Koch Motors in Columbiana on a low bid of $1,799, with a trade-in of a 1952 Oldsmobile, to be used by Charles Snyder, county engineer.

In other business, a contract was let for a binder and filler from the Columbus Blank Book Co. for $102, lowest of three bids, the binder will be used by Probate Court.

Commissioners authorized purchase of a new truck for Hanover Township at a cost of $4,536. Township trustees must have county commissioners approval in purchasing any large equipment.

A tuberculosis patient was reported discharged from the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus.

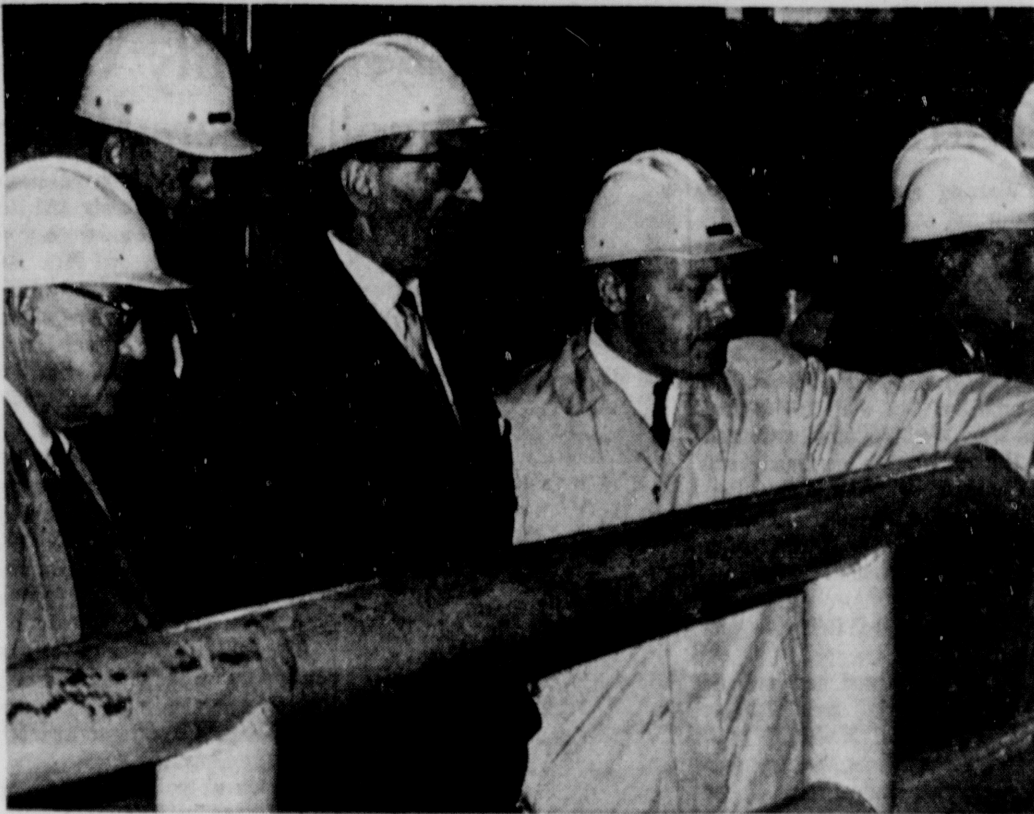

Next meeting is Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

GOP Advisory Group To Hold 2 Luncheons

LISBON — The Republican Advisory Council met Monday at the Wick Hotel and Atty. Charles Pike, Columbiana County chairman, reported on current campaign activities and further plans.

The group decided to meet for lunch the next two Mondays and all interested Republicans are invited.

Spread corned beef (fairly thick) in a baking pan and make some depressions with the back of a large spoon. Break an egg into each depression; sprinkle the eggs with shredded cheese and bake in a hot oven. Good brunch fare!

Legion Post At Wellsville Backs Levy

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Monday night endorsed the proposed 5-mill school levy on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Supt. Lowell Myers, Earl Bake, Board of Education president, and Raymond Rolley, clerk, spoke on the need for the levy.

Robert Beatty, architect, announced plans for the post home renovation are complete and they were accepted. Beatty recommended the project be done on a cost-plus basis rather than seeking bids. He said it will be cheaper and quicker.

If started immediately, the work possibly can be completed in six to eight weeks. Beatty will meet with the building committee tonight to discuss prices of steel beams. The T. K. Roofing Co. will donate the roofing and necessary materials for installation.

The upper portion of the post home was destroyed by fire during the summer. The top section has been razed and the post will utilize the first floor in the new construction.

William Powell, commander, announced the annual Veterans Day banquet will be held Saturday, Nov. 10, at 6 p.m. in the social room of the First Christian Church. Francis House, adjutant, will obtain a speaker.

It was reported Dorman Householder has been returned home from a hospital. J. V. Hughes reported he has received materials on the annual Gift For Yanks Who Gave campaign during the holidays. Anyone desiring the material may obtain it from him.

Lunch was served by Harry Crawford and committee. The post will meet Monday night at 8

Former City Man Heads Rose Unit

Ralph H. Kapp of Harmony Junction near Zelienople, a native of East Liverpool, has been elected president of Roses, Inc., an international rose society.

A native of East Liverpool and son of the late Mrs. W. V. Kapp of Ross Meadows, Kapp was elected to a two-year term at the annual meeting in New York after serving as a board member for four years and vice president for two years.

Now owner of the Zelienople Greenhouse Co., grower and wholesale distributor, Kapp formerly was associated with the John Keil Co. of Glenmoor where he supervised the greenhouses.

In 1940, he went to the Pittsburgh division of McCallum Co. and was transferred to the Zelienople greenhouses in 1947. He purchased the greenhouses in 1954.

At City GOP Rally

Carrigg Reads Telegram Congratulating President

Dr. John J. Carrigg, Republican candidate for 18th District congressman, read a telegram he sent President Kennedy concerning his stand on Cuba when he addressed a GOP "Meet Your Candidates" rally Monday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

The telegram said: "Congratulations on your great address. All Americans, both Democrats and Republicans, unite with you and your decision to eliminate the threat to our security and to advance the cause of world freedom."

Head of the history department at the College of Steubenville, Dr. Carrigg declared the barbs thrown by his opponent "pleases me no end."

Concerning his opponent's reference to securing aid for the College of Steubenville, Dr. Carrigg declared the present congressman took no interest in aiding until he learned a professor from the College was interested in representing the 18th District. More than 100 heard his talk.

Other candidates who spoke were Atty. Donald W. Elliott, State Senate; Clarence L. Wetzel, State Representative; James W. Boyd, county commissioner; T. Emerson Smith, county auditor; Atty. D. Barry Dickson, county judge, and Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. They were introduced by Bob Miller.

Lisbon Motorist Hurt When Auto Rams Tree

Gene P. Jackson, 27, of Lisbon R. D. 5 suffered chest injuries when his car veered off Township Rd. 756 about eight miles southwest of Lisbon Monday and struck a tree.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Jackson was headed north. He was treated at Salem City Hospital. Damage to the auto was moderate, officers said.

There are no "green oases" in Antarctica. There are ice-free valleys which have been referred to as oases, but they cannot be called green. No areas have been found on that continent which contain abundant modern vegetation such as trees. The highest form of plant life in Antarctica is lichen.

WEDGEFIELD By WUNDA WEVE

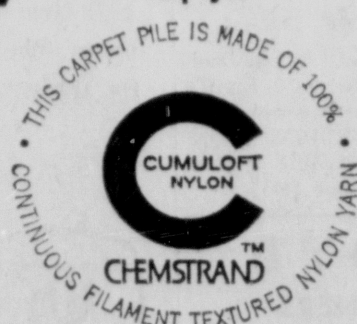

with 100% Cumuloft® Nylon pile

Here is a carpet that loves to entertain:
a cozy couple or convivial crowd.
Always grand and gracious,
this carpet of Cumuloft is made to take people
(and punishment) in stride.
Continuous filament nylon pile gives it spark unsurpassed by other carpets.
And Cumuloft has a built-in bounce
through a special texturizing process that gives it deep down thickness.
The fiber is so rich with color,
it will last and last.

Cumuloft doesn't mind the overflowed cup,
the spilled glass
or the soil left by careless feet.
Troubles like these simply stay on the surface
where they can be sponged or vacuumed away.
No shed...no fuzz...no bother.

If you like a party,
like we like a party,
we invite you to see Wedgefield
with 100% Cumuloft nylon pile...
the life of every party.

Midland Fund Hits $39,787, 87 Per Cent

The Midland Area United Fund campaign has achieved 87 per cent, or $39,787 of its $45,471 goal, Stephen M. Trbovich, general chairman, announced at a report meeting Monday night.

With only two weeks remaining, Trbovich said "it looks like an uphill pull." He said "Crucible and Mackintosh - Hemphill employees are doing their part, however, the campaign committee is disappointed in the showing of Midland proper."

He said that the co-operation of employees in the mills from East Liverpool has been excellent. Appealing to everyone to give their fair share, Trbovich said that Midland in the past has met challenges and he feels confident that Midland can achieve the present goal.

Last week, the campaign reached 66 per cent with pledges of $30,042. The increase since has been various divisions, including education, building trades, government, professions, manufacturing and house-to-house.

The area's residential solicitations were reported still in progress and only partially completed. Mrs. Jack Haggerty, Midland door-to-door chairman, said the Italian Sons and Daughters of America, has been added to the list of organizations furnishing volunteer workers. It will solicit west Midland Ave.

Another report meeting will be held next Monday evening at Midland Lincoln High School.

Christmas Postage Stamp Will Be Sold

A specially - designed Christmas postage stamp will go on sale for the first time in Pittsburgh on Nov. 1 to coincide with the National Association of Postmasters' convention in session there at that time, it was announced by Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, a member of the association. Brown said the local office will receive a supply of the stamps early next month and they will be withdrawn Dec. 31.

The 4-cent stamp will be green, red and white and will bear traditional Christmas symbols, burning tapers, and an evergreen wreath tied with a red bow.

The stamp will be issued on the last day of the postmaster's meeting in Pittsburgh. The convention starts Sunday at breakfast in the Hilton Hotel in honor of former Postmaster General James A. Farley. Some 3,500 postmasters from throughout the nation are expected to attend.

Nov. 1, Postmaster General J. Edward Day will address the delegates and mark issuance of the Christmas stamp, the first of its kind in this country.

Make big pancakes and spread them with currant jelly; roll up and sprinkle with confectioners sugar. Delicious for brunch!

Judy Kittridge Becomes Bride Of Joseph McNicol

Wearing a full - length white gown of satin, Miss Judy Kittridge, daughter of Albert Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., and the late Mrs. Mary Ann Kittridge, became the bride of Joseph L. McNicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McNicol, 228 W. 9th St., the morning of Oct. 6 at 11:30 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Joseph Bennett, assistant pastor, before an altar banked with arrangements of white mums and palms. The wedding music was played by Mrs. James O'Reilly, organist.

Mrs. O'Reilly and her husband sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She placed a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The gown was styled with a sweetheart neckline enhanced with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls and long, tapered sleeves.

The full circular skirt that ended in a chapel train featured garlands of Alencon lace on the front and scattered appliques with seed pearls in the back. Her silk illusion veil fell to soft folds from a pearl crown. She carried a cascade of white carnations and roses.

Miss Bonnie McNicol, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Miss Carol Holava was bridesmaid. They were attired in identical emerald green velvet gowns highlighted with a scoop neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a pleated dome-shaped skirt. They wore flat bows with a self-rose and theatre veils.

Marianne Dray was the junior bridesmaid and Terri McNicol was flower girl. They wore identical dresses of gold velvet with scooped neckline and pleated dome-shaped skirt. The bridesmaid carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow and gold mums and the flower girl carried a yellow basket of gold and yellow mums.

Mrs. Homer Dray, sister of the bride, wore a toden green dress with matching accessories and a yellow rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a brown dress with brown and white printed jacket and matching accessories, and her corsage was of yellow flowers.

The couple spent a honeymoon in Canada and the New England States and are now at home at 821 Chester Ave. For traveling, the bride chose a red knit dress with matching accessories and a white corsage of white roses.

Guests were from Salem, Girard, Michigan and New Jersey.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High and the 1960 Class of the City Hospital School of Nursing. She is a registered nurse. Her husband is a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He served two years in the armed forces.

Carlisle of Pleasant Heights entertained relatives at a family dinner Sunday in honor of Airman 1C and Mrs. Marion Armstrong and son, Jeffrey Keith, of Benton, Ark., who are visiting his mother, Mrs. Minnie Armstrong of W. Lincoln Way. Airman Armstrong recently returned from the Azores and is stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jenkins of W. Lincoln Way returned home Monday after a few days visit with their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. William McMasters and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlisle of East Liverpool.

Hancock Unit Gives Award

Red Cross Honors F. N. Richmond

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter recognized Frank N. Richmond, treasurer, for 25 years of volunteer service at its annual meeting Monday night in the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester.

Richmond, right, is presented a lapel pin by the Rev. William F. Flurkey, past chapter chairman, while Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, executive secretary, looks on.

An executive officer of the First National Bank, Richmond, 526 Louisiana Ave., Chester, has served the chapter since it received its charter Nov. 20, 1939, and previously was a volunteer worker in the Chester Red Cross office.

Following the meeting, the Board of Directors met briefly and re-elected all officers for another year and named four to three-year terms on the board.

Officers returned include the Rev. C. Donald Vogel of Chester, chapter chairman; Miss Martha Troop of New Cumberland R. D. 2, first vice chairman; Earl E. Bennett of New Cumberland, second vice chairman; Alfred D. LaNeve of Newell, third vice chairman; Mrs. Clifton Huff of Chester, secretary, and Richmond, treasurer.

Named to three-year terms on the board are Mrs. B. F. Nally of Congo, Mrs. Beulah Hill and Mrs. Charles W. Mills, both of Newell, and Mrs. James Lohr of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Sprouse distributed copies of the annual report, providing data on the chapter's work in home service, disaster preparedness and relief, safety services and other services. Expenditures included: home service, $1,252.21; first aid and water safety, $61.50; fund campaign expense, $92.22; general management, $889.39; donations to Eastern Area fund campaigns, $1,840.63 and the Chilean Relief fund, $30; taxes, $199.55; for total expenditures of $4,365.56.

The program featured a talk on Red Cross activities by Charles H. Rice of Wheeling, executive director of the Wheeling-Ohio County chapter. Mr. and Mrs. Rice were presented a gift by Rev. Vogel, who presided.

Lunch was served by Miss Olive Allison, assisted by Mrs. Viva Hume Scheil, Mrs. Arlene Greenlee and Mrs. Vogel. Mrs. J. Donald Thompson of East Liverpool, volunteer consultant for the Eastern Area, was a guest.

Chester Post Donates $25

A contribution of $25 for the Chester firemen's community Halloween celebration Oct. 31 was authorized by Chester American Legion Post 121 at a meeting Monday night.

The post also authorized purchase of eight uniforms for the Grant District Burial Group.

Jack Huff, commander, expressed appreciation to the Burial Group for presentation of three flags to the Chester High School Band.

Wayne Pallard, Harold Sims and Atty. James Jordan were named a committee to purchase decorations for Christmas and New Year's activities at the post.

Refreshments were served 30 by the social committee headed by John Merriman. Next meeting is Nov. 12.

Secretary Picked By Band Mothers

Mrs. Theresa Mercer was elected treasurer of the Purple and Gold Band Mothers at a meeting Monday night at the Chester High School. She succeeds Mrs. Belva Morris who resigned.

Mrs. Darwin Picklesimer, Mrs. Richard Rossi and Mrs. Paul Forsyth were appointed a committee to plan a Christmas social meeting.

Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, reported on the band camp. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Wagner. Plans were made for serving refreshments to the St. Marys High School band at the football game with Chester Friday night.

Next meeting is Nov. 26.

Masonic Event Slated By Chester's 142 Club

Plans for a social program for Masons and wives in November were made at a meeting of the 142 Club Monday night at the Chester Masonic Temple.

A committee was named to make arrangements for the event. It includes Willard Miller, Carl Mooney and Dewey McPherson.

A Halloween dance planned later this month was canceled because of other activities it was announced. Refreshments were served by Marcus Trough and Miller.

Next meeting is Nov. 13.

Traffic Injury Case Ends With Settlement

LISBON — An agreement reached out of court Monday at 3 p. m. brought an end to a civil action for $10,000 as a result of an alleged traffic injury that had been under way before a jury and Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Shirley Jackson Ware had filed the action against Howard B. Bomberger of East Liverpool R. D. 2, seeking the amount for an alleged whip-lash back injury as a result of a traffic mishap Dec. 22, 1958, on Pennsylvania Route 68 two miles west of Midland.

She said a truck in which she was riding was hit from behind by the defendant's station wagon.

The jury, dismissed when the agreement was reached, included: Emily Yanni, Corrine Thiemecke, Lloyd Shaw, Beulah Mick and Clarence Bair of East Liverpool; George Smart and Fred Fraser of Wellsville; Edna Fennema and John Lucas of Salem, Anna Belle Guy and Elizabeth McGuire of East Palestine, and Harold Roberts of Columbiana. Mary Flagan of Lisbon was alternate.

Club To Hear Brown

LISBON — "Businessmen In Politics" will be the subject of John W. Brown, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Thursday noon at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the American Legion home. A veteran of World War II, Brown has served as mayor of Medina and was lieutenant governor from 1953-1957.

To Launch Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Defense Department hopes to launch a flashing beacon satellite Wednesday to make more accurate measurements of the earth. The shot had been scheduled today but was delayed 24 hours because of technical problems with the booster rocket.

Family From Detroit Spends Weekend In Fairfield Home

Dr. and Mrs. John Weber and family of Detroit were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Draso, of East Fairfield.

Mrs. Grover Wohrley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dorman of Columbus visited the Rev. and Mrs. Melville Wohrley Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins entertained the Unity Township Progressive Council Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bable have returned after a weekend visit with the Rev. and Mrs. Don Bable of Delaware and Mrs. K. P. Scott of Newark.

Mrs. Mary McQuiston and Gene McQuiston spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith of Salem.

Gilbert Ward visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford of Columbiana Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Honger of Broadman visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Parks Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knappe of Lakewood are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clair Jones.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Mead included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durig of Girard, Mrs. Grace Grimes of Columbiana and William Anglemeyer of Leetonia.

Miss Judy Brown, who has completed three years in the Women's Air Force and has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Victor Brown, plans to visit her brother, Dewayne Brown, of Washington.

Mrs. Charles Seibert has returned after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moore, of Tiffin.

Box Notices Sent In Chester Area

A clarification of Chester rural route designations is being undertaken this week with the delivery of notices to all rural patrons, Robert Edwards, Chester postmaster, announced today.

Notices will be delivered to each patron with the correct box number, he said, and patrons are requested to list the names of all who are to receive mail at the box and return the notice to the rural carrier.

"Many patrons are using Chester R. F. D. 1 as their address which is not the complete address," he said. "The patrons should also include their box number so proper delivery can be made."

Mail received at the post office with only an R.F.D. address may be returned to the sender, Edwards said.

Edwards also reminded rural patrons that approaches to the mail boxes are to be kept cleared of obstructions and snow to make access easier.

Chester Group's Will Incorporate

Articles of incorporation have been filed in Hancock County Courthouse by a group of Chester residents for a development to construct homes for the aged. Salem Hills Corp. of Chester R. D. 1 was organized to "provide facilities for care and comfort and rehabilitation of those over 60, by acquisition or construction of suitable buildings and recreation areas equipped to meet present and future requirements of the aged," the records say.

The corporation was listed as non-profit and is not authorized to issue capital stock. One director is to be named by the Chester Kiwanis Club.

The incorporators include William W. Harper, William W. Harper Jr., Martha Scott and William J. Ingram, all of Chester, and Novelle Scott of Richmond, Ohio.

200 At Program For Wellsville Girl Scout Units

A fun program with 200 participating in the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting, was held Sunday in the First Methodist Church of Wellsville.

The 12 troops and leaders which make up the Wellsville Neighborhood of Girl Scouts, were represented by Seniors, Intermediates and Brownies.

The flag ceremony was led by Ann Clark, Debbie Lowther, Janet Maylone, Linda Bender and Janet Stover, all of Troop 16. Members of Senior Troop 63 of Calcutta with Mrs. Jerry Myler, leader, were guests and some presented the program.

Slides were projected as Senior Scout Chetty Muscari related her experiences while attending the roundup at Button Bay, Vt. Jill Myler, Senior Scout and alternate to the roundup, told of her experiences at the alternate camp at DAR state park in Addison, Vt.

Swaps and projects of both roundup and alternate camps were displayed and explained.

Songs were led and taught by Chetty Muscari, Jill Myler, Kathy Vincent, Kathy Blackburn, Cheryl Rice, Anita Rayburn and Jane Pethel, Senior Scouts of Troop 63 of Calcutta. Games were led by Miss Jane Morris of Hillcrest. Refreshments were served. The program, the first of its kind in Wellsville, was arranged by Mrs. Nancy Palmer, neighborhood chairman.

Columbus Pair Visits Couple At Summitville

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Gamble of Columbus spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gromley, of Summitville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Lutz and daughter, Betty Lou, visited at Minerva Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dowling have sold their farm to Carl Rinehart of near Malvern.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Pitts and sons visited at Carrollton Friday.

East End Woman Injured In Fall

An East End woman and a Lisbon man hurt in falls and a Chester man injured at work were treated at City Hospital Monday.

Mrs. Donna Perkins, 24, of 2146 Michigan Ave. was treated last night for bruises and a laceration of the left leg suffered in a fall on concrete steps at home.

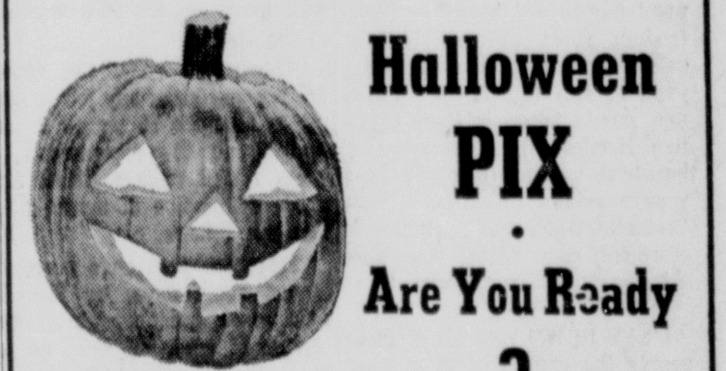

Donald Simmons, 23, of 330 1/2 2nd St., Chester, received bruises of the left foot when caught in a high-lift machine at work at the American Vitrified Products Co.

James McGoogan, 42, of 156 Sherman St., Lisbon, suffered a cut of the forehead in a fall down stairs at home.

Ordinance On Cats Will Require License

NEW PROVIDENCE, N.J. (AP) —The borough council passed an ordinance Monday night requiring cat owners to identify their pets either with a collar and tag or a tattoo or an indelible ink stamp.

Cats will be registered and licensed yearly.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Three Faces Of Skitch

Will the real Skitch Henderson please step forward?

The question is a pertinent one, even for Skitch, because he is a multimembered fellow who does not let his left hands know what his right hands are doing. He is, alternately, music director of NBC-TV; band leader, accom-pianist and wearer of funny hats on the "Tonight" show; composer; guest conductor of symphony orchestras as far flung as the New York and London Philharmonics and the North German Orchestra; cultivator of the most commented-upon red beard in Christendom since Bernard Shaw's; salesman; record album maker; papa of two (the boy's name, you should know, is Hans Christian Henderson); connoisseur of beautiful women (his wife is a wow); aviator; electronics nut; "esthetic water rat"; aficionado of racing cars, racing boats and ski slopes; and raconteur.

I SAT DOWN with all of these people the other day in a smug pad overlooking New York's 57th St. and elicited the following information:

"Oh, sure, I'm doing too much," the total man said. "But you can't just take a year off from television to do what you want to do. You might just as well say goodbye; you'll never get back in."

"No, I won't still be wearing those earphones when I'm 85. Just five more years — that's all I can ask. And where I'm heading — well, I'm heading toward composing."

"I haven't written anything I am satisfied with yet. In any one piece, maybe I've done 13 to 20 bars that work (which is rare). And I mean they work for me, too."

"I'VE JUST DONE this auto show special, which was most difficult. There was this car ballet that needed music that was — well, neutral and bright. I can do a composition for racing cars, using the tonality of the engines, but standard cars? Very hard."

"I'm working now on a piece about whaling — something that came to me when I was conducting the New Haven Orchestra at Mystic, Conn.

"Just as I was about to go on, who should show up to introduce me but Hugh Downs. He hadn't said a word to me about it. Anyway, Hugh is going to help me with the libretto. It will be tragic and have four characters in it — a narrator, the whaler and the whaler's wife and son."

THE "TONIGHT" SHOW, he said, will go in "more and more for long hair. Despite the commercial interruptions, there is a repertoire of short pieces that can be played."

About his role on the program: "You do what you do well and hang with it. I'm an accompanist; that's my daily bread. I've worked with more singers than anybody in the business."

"The styles vary, the voices are big and little; my job is simply to help the singer all I can. And of all the pop singers, I guess I still respect Frank Sinatra's delineation of music more than any other's."

"Sure, the program's changed. In the early days, we literally went on every night with no conception of what we were up to. We were all a bunch of nuts."

"UNBEKNOWNST to anyone — in our desperation for material and our exploitation of it — I destroyed whatever personality I had. I was someone playing character parts."

"But this show — what we're doing now — it's cured all that. There's less of the unexpected now, and maybe that's too bad; but it's better for television."

"Our show," he said, becoming Henderson the Salesman, "isn't a struggle with the public. We're accepted. It's with the clients. They're the ones who make or break a program."

"They don't come running any more. So, I've got to go to conventions and sales shows. It's just polishing the teeth and looking charming. I rather like it."

FINALLY, the man became Henderson the Benevolent Mephistopheles.

"It's unbelievable," he said, "how much humor can be found in a beard. And no, I don't mind it. I've been wearing the thing since the war. (During the war I had a fine walrus.)"

Boy Scout Fund Drive Extended In Wellsville

The Wellsville Boy Scout fund drive has been extended until the end of the week, Jerry Russell, city chairman, said today. It was to have ended Sunday.

Russell said the team captains conducting the solicitation requested the additional week in order to complete their calls.

The goal is $1,800. Russell said he may have a partial report by mid-week. The solicitation of merchants also is incomplete, he said. Anyone interested in making a donation or aiding with the solicitation may contact Russell at LE 2-2916 or James Laughlin, district treasurer, at LE 2-1517.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youths' Virtues Often Overlooked

We oldsters so often think and talk about the constant struggle by teenagers to be independent of us, their urge to marry early and their frequent lack of responsibility, especially with the car, that we tend to overlook their many virtues, especially their idealism. As a rule, they are far less materialistic in their outlook than we are. Consider how many girls would choose to be nurses, teachers, librarians or welfare workers if not dissuaded from such ambitions by their parents and other adults.

IMAGINE THE number of youths who would like to be ministers, priests or rabbis or members of such foreign services as that of The Friends' Service or Peace Corps, but are constantly reminded by their parents or school counselors that such vocations offer relatively small pay. In the family, even in school, there is the opportunity often to talk about and learn to esteem the great men and women of the world, past and present, leaders in statesmanship, education, philosophy, science, art, music and literature, whose influence will live on through the ages, whose greatness seldom depended on how much money they had or earned and who, while alive, were not pompous or glamorous — Jesus, Moses, Socrates, Gandhi, Michaelangelo, Beethoven, Galileo and Abraham Lincoln, to name a few.

While our children are growing up, let us capitalize on their idealism and help them dwell often on the great and lasting values which really appeal to them, rather than on those glamorous persons whose present fame may prove to be "like the snowflakes on the river, a moment white then lost forever."

MANY A YOUTH, while seeming to be temporarily overwhelmed with the show of pomp or certain persons, still can see abiding greatness in some humble persons they know whose names may never be heard on radio or TV or seen in public print — greatness not measured by money or fame but by a driving purpose basically unselfish.

On the basis of a study of the status of modern college freshmen, Prof. Nevitt Sanford of Stanford University noted in the student an element of perfectionism.

The youth looks for moral heroes and is likely to demand that they be perfect. He is not prepared to discover that his idols have feet of clay.

As you and I know, we often see this idealism in the high school student, even younger youths. How great our responsibility as parents, teachers or other persons looked up to!

U.S. Navy Wives, Children Evacuated Amid Cuba Crisis

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hundreds of wives and children were swiftly uprooted amid crisis at the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba and flown to Norfolk Monday night.

Five Marine Corps turbo-jet transports brought 321 evacuees into this Atlantic Fleet headquarters. Some were civil service employees.

The dependents, still clad in light summer clothes and carrying heavy suitcases, were taken in buses to the Little Creek amphibious base where they were housed in a three-story barracks.

Sailors were called in for such chores as rocking babies and mixing formulas. One store sent in a number of playpens which were converted into cribs.

Civilians, military personnel and Red Cross workers worked to make comfortable the evacuees, bewildered by the suddenness of their departure and shivering in 51-degree temperature.

A naval spokesman said it was reasonable to assume that Guantanamo evacuees were being landed at other naval and Marine bases on the middle and south Atlantic seaboard.

The first plane load of 71 passengers landed at the Norfolk Naval Air Station while President Kennedy was still delivering his message to the nation of a quarantine of the Communist-dominated island.

Altogether, the Navy was to evacuate more than 2,000 dependents from Guantanamo.

Minutes before noon Monday, the word came: "Pack one bag each and get ready to leave."

They were given 90 minutes to say goodbye.

Cleveland Youth, 19, Indicted For Murder

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard A. Holt, 19, of Cleveland has been charged with first-degree murder in an indictment returned by the Cuyahoga County grand jury.

He was charged Monday in connection with the fatal beating Sept. 30 of Joseph (Jo-Jo) Furrani, 67, of Cleveland.

The grand jury dismissed a second-degree murder charge against Elmer Moore, 18, of Cleveland in connection with Furrani's death. Also dismissed were manslaughter charges against Richard F. Fears, 19, and Arthur Abrams, 18, both of Cleveland.

Detectives said Holt admitted striking Furrani. He has been free on $3,000 bond.

A fifth youth, 14, who allegedly told police he kicked Furrani as he lay on the sidewalk, faces juvenile charges.

West Point Firemen Set Class Thursday

The third session of a radiation training class for West Point volunteer firemen will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the fire station.

Eighteen firemen have enrolled in the 12-hour course which is taught by Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne of East Liverpool.

Sponsored by the State Department of Education and the Beaver Local Board of Education, the course consists of five classroom meetings and one demonstration outdoors.

Rhodes Claims Government Jobs No Jobless Cure

CLEVELAND (AP) — Government employment cannot be relied upon to absorb the jobless, James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, claims.

Speaking in Berea and Independence Monday night, Rhodes said that while Ohio was losing 54,300 industrial jobs in the past three years, there were 34,900 persons added to government payrolls.

"The only result of this increase was an increase in the cost of government while government income was declining due to increased unemployment," Rhodes said.

Contending that the Democratic state administration has neglected industrial development, he said Ohio could expect an increase in unemployment with the end of the outdoor work season.

He said that if he is elected all programs he has proposed in his campaign would be presented to the legislature the first week of 1963.

Rhodes was to speak in Kent, Ravenna and other Portage County communities today and was scheduled to be in Lakewood, Rocky River and Parma tonight.

Lake Labor Group Will Support Briley

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The scanning committee of the Lake County United Labor Committee, which represents 32 unions in the county, has endorsed John Marshall Briley, Republican opponent of Sen. Frank J. Lausche D-Ohio.

The committee also endorsed Robert Taft Jr., a Republican, for congressman-at-large over Democrat Richard F. Kennedy. The committee said it favors Gov. Michael V. DiSalle over his Republican James A. Rhodes.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Young Mother Solves Weight Problem

Attention, secret eaters! You can draw strength from the young mother in today's letter.

"I too know what a 'secret eater of sweets' is like. Up until six weeks ago I was one myself. To consume a box of candy or a couple of packages of cupcakes was nothing..."

"I am 34 Ida Jean Kain years old and have five children, the same as the other secret eater you wrote about. In my 15 years of marriage I have managed to gain 100 excess pounds. I am 5 feet 7½ tall and have a large frame, but let's face it, I'm fat!"

"On a visit to the doctor with my youngest child, while waiting I stepped on the scales. Imagine my shock when that scale registered 254 pounds! That dit it."

"I ASKED the doctor for a diet and was honest with him. I told him about my secret eating of sweets. Do you know he sat down and talked with me for half an hour, even though he had a room full of patients."

"It will take me at least a year to lose this hundred pound burden, but lose it I shall! I have had to learn how to eat. The doctor gave me pills to curb my craving for sweets and a very simple diet plan to follow."

"I cook as I always have but I eat smaller portions and fewer starches. And no between meal sweets! I save my mealtime fruit and have it in the evening for my TV snack."

"The good news is I have lost 27½ pounds, and now weigh 226½ pounds. I find I have so much more ambition and no one can know the thrill of seeing that pointer on the scales go lower each week."

"I have set myself a goal — to wear a pair of slacks size 18. This may seem crazy to some people, but to me it would be heaven. Anyone who has ever been fat will understand. I'm so tired of house dresses."

"So tell 'Secret Eaters' to see their doctor. He will be understanding and helpful."

Good! This young mother has come to grips with her problem in a spirited, forthright way.

What helped her most? Her honesty. She had the courage to be honest with the doctor. To do so she had to first be honest with herself and face her dietary failing.

Battle For First Place In Ohio Grid Poll Tightens

Niles Climbs; Columbiana Moves To 18th

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The race for Ohio's high school football championship is getting a bit snug.

It has been close for the last several weeks, but it's getting tighter all the time.

Alliance's 1958 kings of the high school realm, although beaten by Lima Senior in the opener, are still the No. 1 choice of 52 sports writers voting in the weekly Associated Press poll. But Niles McKinley's defending champs are creeping up—and the issue probably will be settled when the two clash Nov. 9.

Two weeks ago Alliance led Niles by 28 poll points on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis. A week ago the margin was 21. Today it was 14.

Coach Mel Knowlton's powerhouse won 13 first place votes to five for Niles, while Toledo Central Catholic grabbed 11 in leaping from eighth to fifth place in the ratings.

All of last week's top 10 stayed among the elite, but several changed positions. And Cleveland St. Ignatius, with a 6-0 record and a 212-59 scoring mark, threatened the leaders by getting five first-place votes and 68 poll points—just a half-dozen back of 10th-place Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Some big changes could be upcoming. Fremont Ross, winner over Massillon in the opener and rated 17th, goes against sixth-place Lorain Admiral King this week. Toledo Central (fifth) and Steubenville (eighth) tangle Nov. 2, and, in addition to the Niles-Alliance fray Nov. 9, sixth-place Sandusky plays Admiral King.

From here and there:
Springfield South beat Dayton Chaminade 34-14, first time in 24 years the Eagles have dropped three straight.

Middletown's Bob Walden has caught 32 passes, 10 to touchdowns. The Middies (7th) go against Richmond, Ind., rated third in the Hoosier State, Friday night—and the Richmond backfield boys make up the state's champion 44-yard relay team.

Once-beaten Xenia's line averages 170 pounds and the backfield 164—and sub-quarterback Nick Smith is 5-foot-4 and weighs 128—but he raced for a 76-yard touchdown Friday.

Unbeaten Lakewood needed a 96-yard kickoff return by Jamie Fisher to nose out Parma 21-20. Cleveland Benedictine, which meets Massillon Nov. 2, scored in the last 36 seconds to trip Cathedral Latin 6-0. Massillon had its first string quarterback and a few other injured players ready to go Friday and whipped Mansfield 42-6. Warren gets a crack at the nine-time champions Friday.

Youngstown North is winless in its last 43 games, dating back to 1957—but does have a tie in 1960 to break the losing streak. Lowellville ran its unbeaten streak to 32. Youngstown Cardinal Mooney, its lone loss a 16-6 decision to Niles McKinley, beat South 38-0 for coach Denny Barrett's 11th straight over city rivals since he took over last year.

Lorain Admiral King's Joe Kozar, 200-pound senior fullback, ran for 172 yards and five touchdowns to whip once-beaten Lakewood St. Edward 38-6. Joe did it in 18 carries. He now has an even 100 points.

Shelby and Bellevue, each 7-0, play Friday at Shelby with the Northern Ohio League crown going to the winner. Larry Comer of Cardington raced for five touchdowns Friday. He now has 21 and 134 points for six games.

Bellville ran its unbeaten string to 20 by beating Crestline 18-6. It seems 53 is Fredericktown's lucky number—it has beaten Butler and Centerburg 53-0 the last two weeks.

The Top Ten

Cup Tickets Are Scarce For Mexicans

MEXICO CITY (AP)—While the Davis Cup combatants of Mexico and Sweden continued their rigorous training today, ticket sales for this weekend's interzone matches got completely out of hand.

Would-be spectators waited as long as 12 hours for a chance to purchase a ticket for the matches that will be held in the 3,500-capacity Chapultepec Sports Center Stadium Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Officials conservatively have estimated the demand as four times the amount of available seats as the tennis fever here has been at a boiling point ever since Mexico's victory over the United States in the American Zone finals in August.

This weekend's competition is considered even as Mexico's Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox go against the Swedish pair of Jan Erik Lundquist and Ulf Schmidt. However, the victor is favored to beat India in the final interzone match and go to the challenge round against Australia in December.

Fullmer Risks Crown Against Tiger Tonight

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Utah's Gene Fullmer, who sometimes fights like a man trying to maul his way out of a duffel bag, risks his share of the world middleweight title tonight against his foremost challenger, Dick Tiger of far-away Nigeria.

The 15-round encounter goes on in San Francisco's Candlestick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants and a site noted for peculiar elements of the weather.

The match is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Pacific Daylight Time—9:30 p.m. EST—and will be the feature attraction via closed television circuit in 48 cities across the nation.

The weatherman's forecast was for no more of the fog which has plagued areas of this California bay metropolis recently, and there will be calm in the Giants' much discussed wind tunnel, or baseball park.

Fullmer, making the eighth defense of the title as recognized by the World Boxing Association, figures to enter the ring as a 9-5 underdog.

The experts in general like the Tiger from Nigeria—whose real name is Dick Ihetu—possibly because he has been more active.

Tiger, 33, this year knocked out Florentino Fernandez in Miami Beach in six rounds and won in 10 over Henry Hank in New York.

Fullmer, 31, a dedicated man in the ring as well as a dedicated elder in the Mormon church outside, last fought on Dec. 9, 1961, when he knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in seven rounds in Las Vegas.

Tiger has never been knocked out. The only time Fullmer has been knocked out, and the last time he lost, was in five rounds by Sugar Ray Robinson May 1, 1957.

Holiday At Hardin-Simmons After Team Snaps Streak

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — There was a holiday at Hardin-Simmons Monday—about the most significant holiday in the university's history, athletically speaking.

The football team had broken a 27-game losing streak, just one shy of 28 straight set by Kansas State in 1945-48 and equaled by Virginia in 1958-60.

When Hardin-Simmons beat Trinity, Tex., University 14-6 Saturday night, there was great rejoicing. If the team hadn't done it then, there wouldn't have been much chance of accomplishing it this week against Arkansas.

But there was a lot of confidence that Hardin-Simmons would beat Trinity, the last team it defeated before the streak began.

Executive Vice President George Graham told the students there would be a holiday on Monday if the team won. The teachers told the students they should prepare their lessons for Tuesday classes since there wouldn't be any classes on Monday.

Coach Jack Thomas was asked how it felt to lead the football team out of its miseries.

"I felt that this team was determined to win this game no matter what the odds might be," said the coach. "They had been building up to it for some time. They just had to win it. Any coach could have done it. It was the boys themselves.

You'd have thought there was a circus in town in the early morning hours of Sunday. There were more firecrackers than a July 4 celebration. The honking horns haven't been silenced yet.

Wellsville Routs Westgate 7th-8th Grade Team, 44-0

Wellsville blasted Westgate's 7th and 8th grade team by a 44-0 count Monday at Patterson Field. The victory was the fifth straight for the young Tigers.
Leading the way were Rick Hall and Chris Thornton who scored twice for Wellsville while Terry Medley and Todd Weekley added a touchdown each. Terry Van Dyke scored six points on three conversions.

Hayes Brings Out Crying Towel, Blames Officials

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes figures the officials in Saturday's game with Northwestern cost his Ohio State Buckeyes a touchdown, a victory and a possible Big Tenth and Rose Bowl bid.
Woody, who often fails to see eye-to-eye with the arbiters but who insists the Big Ten has the best in the business, minced no words as he told the Columbus sports writing corps:
"We were cheated out of a touchdown. We didn't get quite a fair shake from the officials."

He pointed an accusing finger at the whistle-blower who called a pass-interference penalty against the Bucks in the third quarter when Bo Scott intercepted an errant Wildcat aerial and ambled 52 yards into the end zone.
The arbiter said Paul Warfield was a mite quick in tackling Northwestern's Chuck Logan, for whom the toss was intended. Woody had run and rerun films of the action on his Sunday television show, and finally decided:
"There was no interference on the play. We were just cheated out of a touchdown. (Northwestern won it, 18-14, after Ohio had taken a 14-0 first-quarter lead). The films show the ball had passed over Logan's head before Warfield hit him. If there is any question about interference, the official is not supposed to call it. This official just let his imagination run away with him."

He said, however, "it is purely a judgment call, and we have no recourse. The game is over."
"But," he added, "I'm beginning to believe the officials win more games than anybody. We lost a touchdown on a bad call at UCLA, and now we lose another, and each one cost us a ball game."

Texas Holds 1st In College Poll

Texas clung to the lead today in 'The Associated Press' weekly football poll of sports writers and sportscasters in a tight battle with Alabama. It was the second consecutive week for Texas on top of the heap and the second runner-up week for Bear Bryant's Alabama team.
Northwestern shouldered into the higher echelon by upsetting Ohio State, moving from eighth to third place. Ohio State, beaten twice, became the first former leader of '62 to drop completely out of the top ten.

Texas had its hands full with Arkansas, winning 7-3 on a late touchdown after the Razorbacks fumbled away a touchdown on the goal line. Alabama ran over Tennessee as expected 27-7.

Despite a 32-6 victory over California, Southern California slipped to fourth. Wisconsin hopped all the way from 10th to fifth on the strength of a 42-14 romp over Iowa.
The top ten clubs with first-place votes in parentheses—points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Texas (23) 491
2. Alabama (18) 465
3. Northwestern (8) 390
4. Southern California (1) 363
5. Wisconsin (1) 279
6. Louisiana State 232
7. Mississippi (1) 228
8. Washington 170
9. Arkansas 82
10. Michigan State 79

'Tripleheader' Set At Beaver Local

The Beaver Local Athletic Association will present a "tripleheader" in football Wednesday on the Beaver Local gridiron. Three Beaver Local teams will meet East Palestine squads. Admission will be $1 for a family, or 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

All-Star Contest Set For Midland Midgets Saturday

The All-Star game of the A. L. Sonnenhalter Chapter of the Hot Stove League Midget Football will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Midland high school stadium.
The Blue and Gold Michigan State team won the league championship last Wednesday, defeating an Industry team, 33-7, and will face the All-Stars of the league.

Practice for Saturday's game started Monday. The Blue and Gold have a record of five wins and one loss. David Jakes and Vincent D'Itri are the team's backfield coaches and Bill Monaco and John Waddingham, the line coaches.

Transplanted Warriors In Coast Debut

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After problems and more problems, the transplanted San Francisco Warriors and Wilt Chamberlain make their debut in the National Basketball Association tonight, facing the Detroit Pistons.

Despite the difficulties, a crowd of about 8,000 is expected to watch the newest addition to the city's professional sports group go into action.

Their advance ticket sale drive ran smack into the National League pennant drive of the San Francisco Giants and then the World Series. Tonight's date at the Cow Palace conflicts with the Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger middleweight championship fight at Candlestick Park.

And two veteran players on whom they'd counted won't be ready. Still Coach Bob Feerick looks for a solid showing from a club numbering two rookies as corner men.

The opener is scheduled at 9 p.m. to accommodate fans who might want to watch both it and the fight that starts at 7:30.

Chamberlain, holder of virtually every NBA scoring record, heads the list of Warriors who transferred with the franchise from Philadelphia in the $550,000 deal last spring.

But despite his 7-foot-1 frame, the Warriors may lack over-all height for the NBA campaign.

"Because of Wilt, we may be regarded as a big team," said Feerick, a former NBA star who quit as coach and athletic director at nearby Santa Clara University to take over the Warriors reins from Frank McGuire when the team moved West.

"His height helps our over-all average, of course, but individually, right now, we're comparatively undersized, particularly in the front court."

Probable starters up front are rookies Wayne Hightower, at 6-8 from Kansas, and Dave Fedor, 6-6, from Florida State.

They don't sound short, but at the same spots the Pistons have Ray Scott at 6-9 and Bailey Howell at 6-7, both weighing 215 while Hightower goes at 205 and Fedor at 195.

EL Lady Boosters Hear Plans For Raising Funds

Two fund-raising projects were planned when the Lady Potter Boosters Club met Monday night in the YMCA, with about 20 attending.

A rummage sale will be held after the conclusion of the football season, while a clothing demonstration will be presented at the next meeting Oct. 29.

Mrs. Mary Kraft, president, conducted business. Plans were also made to feed the Potters after practice Thursday and after Friday's game.

Coach Bob Hedmond screened movies of the Potter - Big Red game. Next meeting is Oct. 29.

2 Drivers And 2 Fishermen Fined

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two motorists and two fishermen were fined at hearings Monday before Squire John D. Herron.

Arch Miller, 20, of R. D. 1 was fined $50 and given a suspended term of 20 days in County Jail on a charge of reckless operation. He was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies on a warrant filed by Robert Six.

Howard J. Rowand, 19, of Newell was fined $10 and costs for failure to halt for a traffic sign. He was cited by deputies.

Wayne Pitcock, 45, and George Roush, 60, of New Cumberland were fined $20 and costs each for possession of fish in excess of the limit. They were cited by Walter McCrea, county conservation officer.

McKinley, Hard Win World Tennis Rating

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles (Chuck) McKinley and Darlene Hard are the top-rated American players in the unofficial world amateur tennis rankings.

McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., is ranked No. 5 in the men's division, headed by Australia's Rod Laver and Miss Hard of Long Beach, Calif., is ranked third in the women's division, topped by Margaret Smith of Australia.

The list is compiled annually by Edward C. (Ned) Potter, chairman of the publications committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association and historian of the game.

The gestation period of a kangaroo is only 39 days, which for such a large animal is a relatively short time. However, the kangaroo's young are still undeveloped when born, only about an inch long, and they immediately crawl into the marsupial pouch where they remain until they reach maturity.

FIRST ON TRAIL. These 10 members of Boy Scout Troop 19 of the Wellsville First Methodist Church completed a 23-mile hike along the Sandy-Beaver Trail—from East Liverpool to Camp McKinley near Lisbon—over the weekend, the first Scout unit to make the hike. They are, left to right, Bill Bratt, assistant leader, Bruce Glover, Tommy Davidson, Eric Eccleston, James Clark, David Tarnovich, Harold Neville, Billy Bratt, Bud Hanselman and Tim O'Hara. The youths left the State Line at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, arriving at Williamsport for an overnight stay, and reached the Scout Camp Sunday afternoon at 3:50 p.m.—19 hours on the trail on which there are 14 locks of the former Sandy-Beaver Canal.

Snead Leads Redskins Into New York Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Norman Snead last saw New York it was mainly from a horizontal position. Unfriendly Giant linemen saw to that.

It was, possibly, the most unpleasant afternoon the Washington quarterback experienced in a long, rugged rookie season in the National Football League.

Snead completed only seven of 20 passes that afternoon, had two intercepted and New York smeared the Redskins 53-0—worst of a dozen beatings Washington endured last fall.

What a difference a year makes!

Sunday, big chief Snead—no longer an unsure rookie—leads an unbeaten band of Redskins into New York with one of the NFL's best passing records. The Redskins (4-0-2) lead the NFL's Eastern Division instead of the Giants (4-2).

The lanky sophomore quarterback has connected on 84 of 142 passes—almost 60 per cent—for 1,334 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Bobby Mitchell, fleet flanker back who came to Washington in an off-season trade with Cleveland, is Snead's main target—34 passes for 714 yards and eight touchdowns.

U.S. Entry Rates 8-5 Favorite In Trot Competition

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Su Mac Lad of the United States has been made the early 8-5 favorite for the $60,000 United Nations Trot at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night.

Eight trotters, four from the United States and four from foreign countries, will meet in the 1½-mile race that is designed to determine the 1962 world trotting champion.

Su Mac Lad drew the No. 2 post position and Duke Rodney, another U.S. horse, was made the second choice at 7-2 although he drew the outside No. 8 spot.

The third choice is France's Ozo, winner of the Transoceanic Trot last Thursday in which the top four finishers qualified as the foreign representatives in the race. Ozo will start from the No. 3 post and was listed at 9-2.

Midland Sportsmen's Club Sets Rally, Social

The Midland Sportsmen's Club will hold an annual small game rally and social Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the farm hall in Ohioville Borough.

Entertainment will include movies of a big game hunt held about a month ago by several members, Francis Galioto and Eli Bratich, both of Midland, and Earl Gilbert and Robert Hickman, both of East Liverpool.

The hunt was held in Wyoming and the men bagged four antelope and four mule deer or black-tails.

The club will hold a public hunt and turkey shoot Sunday, starting at 1 p.m., H. B. Kissinger, secretary, said. Mike Hornick is president.

The meaning of the name of "Hawaii" is homeland.

Dan LaRose, offensive tackle with the Detroit Lions, was a good shot putter at Missouri but his career in that sport ended with a broken wrist. He got the injury running around the indoor track the day after he set the school shot put record.

Harry Gallatin of the St. Louis Hawks, Bob Feerick of the San Francisco Warriors and Jack McMahon of the Chicago Zephyrs are the new National Basketball Association coaches this season.

Break Up Cincinnati Is Cry Around M.V.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri Valley Conference basketball coaches have a variation of the old American League baseball song, "Break up the Yankees."

In the Valley, it's "Break up Cincinnati."

Cincinnati has won or shared the Valley championship five straight years and is rated a shoo-in for a sixth this season.

In a pre-season meeting over the weekend, Valley coaches debated the only big question: "Can Cincinnati become the first team in history to take three straight national crowns?"

The coaches predicted a scramble among Drake, Wichita, St. Louis and Bradley for the runner-up spot in the Valley.

Ed Jucker, Cincy coach, has lettermen Ron Bonham, Tony Yates, Tom Thacker and George Wilson returning. He also has newcomers Ron Kirck, a 6-foot-7½, 230-pounder, and Gene Smith, 6-5, 210 pounds.

"Sure we should be tough," Jucker said. "But don't forget we lost Paul Hogue (All-America and most valuable player of the NCAA finals) and five men through graduation. If we could find a replacement for Paul, we could be tough."

Chuck Orsborn, whose Bradley Braves tied Cincy for last year's league title, but lost in a play-off, said:

"We'll be lucky to finish in the top five. Gone are Chet Walker (two-time All-America), Ed Wodka, Dick Peterson, Les Edwards and Mickey Tiemann. Mack Herndon, 6-5, will be our biggest man. We lack size, experience and bench strength."

The famous Chinese bird's nest soup is made from the nest of a kind of swift called the selangane.

The nest consists of a mucilaginous substance secreted by glands in the mouth of the bird.

The birds live in caves which are numerous in northern Sumatra, and the owners of these caves enjoy a good income from gathering the nests and selling them for as much as $15 a pound.

Bird's nest soup is an expensive delicacy, but is available in many good Chinese restaurant and gourmet food shops.

Wellsville Jaycees Endorse 5-Mill Levy For School Use

The Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce endorsed the proposed 5-mill school levy after it was outlined by Supt. Lowell Myers and other school officials at a general membership meeting Monday night at the Jaycee Hall. Twenty-eight attended.

Myers commented a majority of the revenue will be for teachers' salaries. Earl Bake, board president, said "most school systems pay twice as much as Wellsville to educate their students."

Raymond Rolley, board clerk, reviewed the expenses of the system and showed how monies are spent.

The levy will be on the Nov. 6 ballot. Nunzio S. Lombardo, president, conducted business.

Three new members, Richard Livolsi, Bob Wilkinson and Dick Wilk, were inducted.

State Sen. Edmund Sargus, a guest, spoke on the way legislation is adopted. He also outlined the need for education. A question-and-answer period followed.

Reports were heard from Frank Fusco, beautification chairman; Dick Kevan, Hammond Park pavilion chairman; Jon Kiggans and Jerry Russell, co-chairmen of the City Hall-Post Office, and Lombardo, community activity calendar chairman.

The "pass-the-gavel" program is under way with Wellsville and Dover defending champions. It is a program designed to promote inter-club relations.

Dan MacLean reported on the Junior Rifle Club being formed under the auspices of the Jaycees.

Twenty-nine youths have been signed. Another meeting will be held Wednesday night to complete the organization. George Hardman will serve as club leader with MacLean as instructor.

Tom Morris, Hardman and MacLean will serve on the advisory committee along with three parents of club members to be named.

Fusco is heading a membership drive which is progressing. Tom Hunter, ways and means chairman, reported on the sale of personalized house numbers to begin next week.

Eugene Ceniviva will be the Jaycee representative to a public meeting Thursday night at the City Hall to discuss formation of a Community Fund drive.

A vote of thanks was received from the Wellsville fire department for providing trophies for poster contest winners in the Fire Prevention Week campaign. The Jay-ettes will hold a social Nov. 3 at 6:30 p.m. for all Jaycees.

The plumbing and electrical work has been completed at the hall. The Jaycees will visit the County Home near Lisbon Wednesday evening. Any interested are to meet at the hall at 6 p.m.

Additional chairs have been purchased for the hall. A Christmas program committee was named, including Walt Henthorn, Ceniviva, Kevan, Charles Amato and Wilkinson. Named to a decorations committee were Wilk, Bill Miller, Jim Laughlin, Ray Groom and Livolsi.

Kevan and Laughlin participated in a "Speak Up Jaycee" program. A letter of appreciation and commendation was read from Robert Young, District 6 vice president.

Jerry Russell gave the invocation. He also served refreshments.

The Board of Directors will meet Nov. 21. Next membership meeting is Nov. 26.

America Cup Race Slated With England

NEW YORK (AP) — England, shut out in its last effort to break American domination of yachting's America's Cup racing, will get another opportunity to wrest the goblet from the United States in 1964.

By that date, America will have the cup, now symbolic of 12-meter yachting supremacy, for 113 years.

The decision to race in 1964 was reached Monday when the New York Yacht Club accepted a British challenge. At the same time, the British were notified again that their challenge for 1963 could not be accepted.

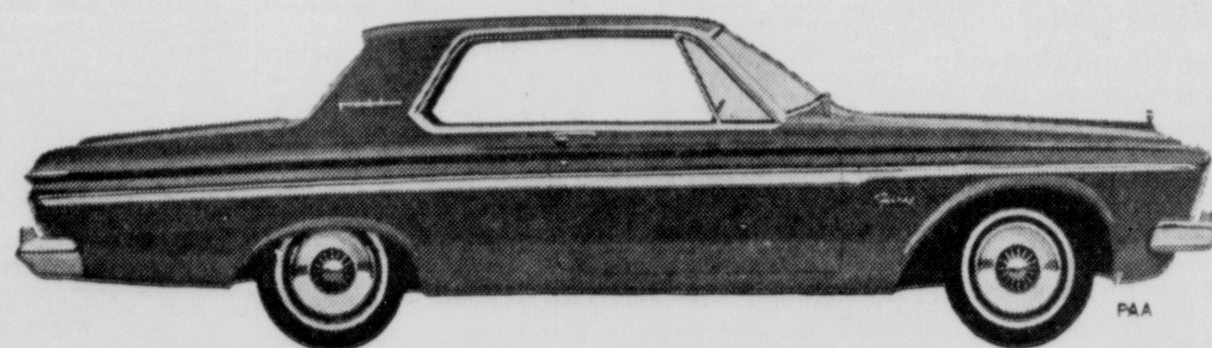

In the latest series of America's Cup races, the U.S. defender Weatherly defeated the challenging Australian Gretel four races to one. The British yacht Sceptre failed in the previous bid in 1958, losing four straight races to the Columbia.

Commodore H. Irving Pratt of the New York Yacht Club sent a cable to the challenging Royal Thames Yacht Club Monday, notifying them of the acceptance for 1964.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Please suggest a method of straightening out wire that is kinked and bent.

A. Fasten one end of the wire taut. Then run a hardwood dowel or a plastic-handled screwdriver firmly down its length—or, if easier, draw the wire between thumb and screwdriver handle with a motion similar to combing long hair. After a few such passes, the kinks will disappear and the smoothed-out wire will take on a long, uniform curve, making it easier to roll into coils for storage.

Q. How can I keep the paring knives in my kitchen sharper for a longer time?

A. You can do this if you'll keep your knives in a holder, and especially if the holder is filled with sand. The sand tends to sharpen the cutting edges and keep the blades separated from each other. Such a holder can be easily made by slitting the top of a baking-powder can for insertion of the blades. Then you can decorate this container with some attractive decals.

Q. How can I remove mascara stains from unwashable materials?

A. Sponge unwashables with carbon tetrachloride, or work in fuller's earth, cornstarch, or talcum, let stand, and then brush out. If using one of these absorbents, you may have to repeat several times, but they are safe for the most delicate fabrics and leave no ring. Should a trace of the stain remain, sponge with denatured alcohol diluted with two parts of water.

Q. How can I remedy a door that persists in rubbing at the top or against the floor or threshold?

A. Try tacking a piece of coarse sandpaper to the permanent member at an appropriate spot, then open and close your door over this "self-sander," until the door moves freely.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Do porpoises and dolphins actually talk to one another?

ANSWER: These animals—especially dolphins—have received a lot of attention in the last few years. This is mostly because they are gay and amusing captives in a tank and seem to love to have human beings looking at them. Recently, however, a scientist, Dr. John C. Lilly, has been trying to find some animal whom he can train to understand human speech and talk back. He says there are only two kinds of animals with big enough brains to do this: elephants, and the whale family, of which the dolphin is one kind. Dr. Lilly has concentrated on studying dolphins in special tanks wired so that he can catch sound. He finds they definitely do whistle, click, bark and so on. They are also said to carry on conversations with one another by buzzing and whistling sounds.

FOR YOU TO DO: Listen to birds' notes. They certainly signal to each other, about danger and so on. These signals are not "talk" as we talk, but can you figure out what some of their notes mean?

Jean Cetto of Athol, Mass., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 23, the 295th day of 1962. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1934, Mrs. Jeanette Piccard became the first woman stratosphere flier when she piloted her husband in a balloon to a height of approximately eleven miles.

On this date: In 1658, death came to Thomas Pride, the parliamentarian general who banned all Presbyterian and Royalist members from the British House of Commons.

In 1776, George Washington's troops withdrew from the island of Manhattan during the American Revolution.

In 1883, Chileans evacuated Lima, Peru.

In 1904, Britain and Russia almost went to war after a Russian Baltic fleet fired on a British fishing fleet off the Dogger Bank in the North Sea.

In 1956, Hungarian students and workers in Budapest began an unsuccessful revolt against the Soviet Union.

Today's birthdays: Swimmer Gertrude Ederle is 55. Author Emily Kimbrough is 63.

Thought for today: Choose an author as you choose a friend—Wentworth Dillon.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am only 17 but I'm very worried about what is happening to the world.

I don't want to get married too young and miss out on the fun of being footloose and fancy free. I keep telling myself there is plenty of time to be tied down to housework and babies. Yet I sometimes fear if I don't get married soon I may never get the chance.

All this talk about atomic war is very frightening. Most people think it will never happen but nobody knows for sure. It could happen by accident, now that the smaller countries are working it out by themselves.

Then we read so much about the population explosion. Will I be pushed into the sea by masses of people? Will I starve because the earth will be unable to produce enough food for everyone?

I know you can't predict the future, but do you think I'm worrying about things that are silly? —MISS SEVENTEEN.

Dear Miss Seventeen: Worry takes time and energy. It is debilitating and bootless. To sit around and stew about a nuclear war or the population explosion is silly since you have no control over these matters.

Each of us must pray and work for peace because the alternative is unthinkable. Life without faith is meaningless. We must live each day as if we know tomorrow will come. Because it usually does.

Familiar Sound

Dear Ann: The letter from the woman who complained because her husband didn't introduce her to anyone when they went out socially sounds as though my wife wrote it.

Everything she said is true. She does stand there like a cigar store Indian while I shake hands all around. The reason I don't introduce her, Ann, is because I have a rotten memory. I can't remember names to save my soul. After two drinks I do well to remember my own.

So please print this letter and get me off the hook. My friends probably think I'm a slob. Little do they know I am a fine gentleman with a lousy memory. —BUCK.

Dear Buck: For people who can't remember names (and their names are legion) may I suggest the following:

Instead of ignoring your wife turn to her and say, "Honey, I'd like you to meet some good friends of mine." Then turn to your friends and say, "This is my wife Kay." The fact you have not mentioned their names probably will go unnoticed, particularly if the little woman is quick on the uptake. Even if it is noticed, it's better than allowing your wife to stand around like a clothing store dummy.

Retarded Children

Dear Ann: The letter about the retarded child prompts me to write my first letter to a newspaper. I'm a woman in my 60s but I still suffer from anxieties which started in childhood because everyone else was ignorant, too. In those days little was known about retarded children.

Both my stepsister and stepbrother were born with brain damage. They were permitted to run wild, like animals. No attempt was made to discipline them or to teach them anything.

Today, thank God, we know that these children can be disciplined and taught, depending on the degree of retardation. So please, Ann, keep urging parents to seek professional help. It can make a world of difference to the retarded one as well as to other members of the family. —ORLANDO HEARTACHE.

Dear Heartache: Thank you for the letter. For those who want information, it can be obtained free by writing to: National Association for Retarded Children, Inc., 386 Park Ave., S. New York 16, N.Y.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mafia Is Blamed In Youngstown's 'Gang' Slayings

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police officials blame the Mafia and the fear the international crime syndicate generates for the unsolved gangland-style slayings in the Youngstown area in recent years.

The Mafia was cited by Police Chief William R. Golden and Lt. Michael J. Carney, assistant chief of detectives, Monday at a special meeting of religious and civic leaders called by Mayor Harry N. Savasten to look into the crime picture in the Mahoning Valley.

Stressing the need to "fight these men who are trying to take over our government," Golden said, "The Mafia is a very real thing in Youngstown." He added that if some people talked here "they would never reach a grand jury."

Lt. Carney expressed the opinion that most gangland murders in the area were connected with the Mafia and that the murders would continue if past ones were not solved. He said the Mafia had a record of eliminating witnesses, which "frightens even honest men."

$10,000 Damage Set In Cleveland Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—A multiple-alarm fire early today did more than $100,000 damage in a downtown three-story building.

Some 100 firemen from two battalions fought the wind-whipped blaze in the Sixth Street structure for almost two hours before bringing it under control. No injuries were reported.

The building houses several businesses, including the Forest Cities Specialties Co. and the Schuster Clothing Co. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the basement but were unable to give the cause.

Sam Miller, owner of the Ohio First-Aid and Pharmaceutical Co., Inc., which occupies two floors of the building, said his loss would be at least $100,000.

Injured Boy Returns

ELKTON — Kenneth Dixon, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dixon, returned Sunday from St. Louis, Mo., where he was hospitalized after an auto accident Oct. 11 in Missouri which killed the driver and injured two other youths.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For anyone who moves a great deal, save your old sheets to use on your beds the last three or four days before you move. They are not good enough to give away to any organization, so you just throw them away and do not have to worry about washing them.

I do this with towels and everything. I also save old underclothes that I am not about to take with me and I use these the last few days and just throw them away!

My maid often asks me, "What are those old sheets and stuff doing in the linen closet?" I tell her that they are not good enough for our family to sleep on except for the last three or four nights before we are moving to another place! This is the truth. For instance you can do this with towels, pillowcases, underwear, shorts and dish towels.

TIERED

DEAR HELOISE: For goodness sakes, please tell me how to clean my aluminum tumblers. They are about the biggest mess you have ever seen. Try as I might, I cannot get them bright and shiny. I am sure you have the answer.

MELINDA CURTZ

I have had the same trouble and found that the only answer is this:

Fill up any big pot or vessel you happen to have in your kitchen with warm water. Put this on your stove burner.

I add about three heaping teaspoons of cream of tartar. Let this come to a full rolling boil. Then put your aluminum tumblers into this water. (Be sure they are covered with water.) Let it boil for perhaps . . . 15 or 20 minutes . . . depending upon how discolored your tumblers are. You will find that they will be as bright as new again.

Then all one has to do is take a soap-filled scouring pad and rub them gently. This also works on hammered aluminum tumblers.

This is the only way I have ever found to clean my own tumblers that was satisfactory, easy, quick and saved time and energy . . . and my fingernails.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Husbands who carry their lunch to work without a cool spot to store it and sometimes end up with a spoiled sandwich should try a chemical liquid that comes sealed in a metal container, which will freeze solid and keep several hours.

Two small cans will fit down in the bottom of the men's metal lunch kits. I rotate one each day. I wrap the can in a piece of plastic to seal the slight moisture, which sometimes does accumulate by noon.

After my husband has been working all morning a good lunch really means something to him.

These cans may be purchased at most automotive and sports stores.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Alliance Nurse Killed In Car-Truck Crash

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — A nurse on her way home from work Monday night was killed in a rear-end collision between a car and a tractor-trailer on U.S. 62 about nine miles southwest of here.

Stark County sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Mrs. Cora Grimes, 49, of Alliance rammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer rig driven by Jesse Brenner, 35, of Hartstown, Pa.
